

South Koreans Cause Crisis With Boycott Of Armistice Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—South Korea's resistance to an armistice on terms favored by the United States confronted the Eisenhower administration today with a crisis within a crisis. Some officials believe firm measures may be required to resolve the situation.

The situation was pointed up today when the South Korean government announced it would continue to boycott the truce talks unless the Allies withdraw or change their latest proposals.

Everything Secret

Indications are that an exchange of messages is in progress between President Eisenhower and President Syngman Rhee, although Eisenhower has imposed such secrecy restrictions on the whole Korean truce situation that officials declined to confirm that.

This is why it is a double crisis: A decisive answer is due from the Communists this weekend to proposals put forward last week-end by the United Nations Command, directed by the U. S. Thus the government here is primarily concerned with the climactic stage of the prolonged truce negotiations.

Yet at this stage it is compelled to devote a considerable amount of time and attention to the threat of resistance to a truce raised by Rhee's government.

Chance For Confusion

If the South Korean regime actually goes through with its declaration of intent to fight on against the Reds for victory throughout all Korea, the result could very well be to wreck any chances for reaching an armistice, even if the Communists were willing to accept without further argument the terms most recently laid down in secret by the U. N. Command.

However, officials here are well aware that the South Korean government is extremely dependent on the U. N. and, more directly, on the U. S. for its survival. The government was sponsored by the U. N. in the first place and has been assisted and supported by the U. S. from the beginning.

In the last year or so, the U. S. has concentrated on building up South Korean forces and these are now sufficiently strong, numbering about 16 divisions, so that if they were ordered to follow a political policy different from that of other Allied forces fighting the Communists, the result would be a disastrous confusion and conflict of operations.

If U. N. troops stopped fighting and Syngman Rhee's forces did not, the Reds would have grounds for charging that the armistice to which they had agreed was ineffective on the U. N. side.

Now-Or-Never Truce Plan Rejected By Communists

LOOKS BRING WOE — Donald Nick (Nicky Boy) Venarde, 37, a mechanic, blamed his troubles on his good looks after being arrested in Houston, Texas. His 65-year-old wife in Miami, Fla., charged him with theft of $4,000. He said she frequently bribed him with $100 bills to keep him from waiting on pretty girls at a service station. Chinese Reds Pour 15,000 Into Savage Korean Battle

SEOUL (Saturday) (AP)—U. S. and Turkish troops pulled off Outposts Vegas and Elko Friday night as the big Chinese drive rose in fury along the ancient invasion road to Seoul, 30 miles to the south.

A front line dispatch said Allied artillery at once loosed a furious bombardment on the two scarred heights. Chinese guns responded and the artillery duel raged beneath a full moon.

The Chinese Communists, striking with 8,500 men in the west while mounting a 6,500-man drive in the center, thus had seized three outposts hills east of the truce town of Panmunjom. The third was Carson, which fell Thursday night.

The weary Americans and Turks pulled back on orders after more than 24 hours of bloody fighting, often with the bayonet. Savage artillery pounding from both sides had ripped up trenches, bunkers and fox holes on Vegas and Elko.

Tanks Blast Enemy

AP Correspondent Forrest Edwards reported a five-mile front along the row of hills guarding the road to Seoul was "one big cloud of dust, smoke and exploding shells."

Marine tanks stood on the main line positions and poured hundreds of high velocity shells into the ranks of the oncoming Reds. Waves of fighting-bombers hurled bombs and flaming jellied gasoline on the attacks.

The five-mile front stretched from a point about five miles northeast of Panmunjom through the hill outposts to the larger position of The Hook, which is 10 miles northeast of the truce town. British Commonwealth troops last were reported standing firm on The Hook, where two Chinese Battalions, about 1,500, were hurled back.

In London, the War Office announced in a communique that the British on The Hook had inflicted a "crushing defeat" on the Chinese Reds.

Allied troops clung to the southern slope of nearby Outpost Elko at nightfall after routing Reds from the summit earlier in the day. Edwards said they were holding on with the help of a thunderous artillery barrage.

Chinese hold the north slope of Outpost Vegas and the Turks the south. Fighting atop the hill is with bayonets and hand grenades, Edwards said. Vegas also was reported secured earlier.

Tanks Blast Enemy

U. S. Sabre jets shot down two Communist MIGs, probably destroyed another and damaged three in battles over North Korea. The kills put Sabre pilots within 11 planes and Lt. Robert H. Erdmann, Fairlawn, N. J., his first claim.

Marine tanks firing from main line Allied positions poured hundreds of high velocity shells into the Red ranks, while waves of fighter-bombers unloaded 166,000 pounds of high explosives and napalm on the Red side of the battle-front.

Peace Dickers At Panmunjom Resume Monday

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN and BILL SHINN

MUNSAN (AP)—The Communists rejected outright at least part of an Allied truce plan submitted in a secret meeting at Panmunjom Monday, it was disclosed today.

The plan had been called a "now-or-never" offer by many sources. There was no indication whether the Reds would change their minds at next Monday's meeting, the first after a week-long recess.

The Reds object to release of any Red prisoners as civilians in South Korea, or leaving to the U. N. General Assembly the ultimate disposition of prisoners unwilling to return to communism.

UN Labeled Belligerent

These "can not be agreed to by our side," North Korean Gen. Nam II told the Allies. His reply was released in excerpts from the record of Monday's meeting.

Nam said it is "inconceivable" that the Allies propose turning over any Red prisoners to the U. N., which he labeled "a belligerent itself."

The U. N. General Assembly on Dec. 5, 1952, approved an armistice plan drafted by India which provided that final disposition of unwilling prisoners be left to the U. N.

The excerpt was revealed in a letter which Maj. Gen. Choi Duk Shin, South Korean truce delegate, delivered Thursday to the senior allied delegate, Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr. Although not made public, the letter was obtained from reliable sources which can not be identified.

Sellout Charged

The allied plan, still under official secrecy, has ranked South Koreans. Government officials have threatened to boycott the truce talks and possibly fight on alone unless the plan is killed or revised.

There were cries of "appeasement" of the Communists and a "sellout" of South Korea. In his letter to Harrison, Choi specifically called on the U. N. truce delegation to:

1. Transmit to "the policy making authority" the opinion and recommendations in his letter.
2. Withdraw the latest Allied truce proposal and prepare a new proposal after the talks are resumed Monday.
3. Grant "full consultation" well in advance to the Republic of Korea.

Revenue Service Closes 11 Of 17 District Offices

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new Republican administration has abolished 11 of the 17 district commissioner offices set up last year by the outgoing Democratic administration when it reorganized the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Three new district commissioner offices have been established, dividing the nation and its territories, for tax purposes, into a new total of nine districts.

Dunlap Gets Out

The sweeping revision of the tax bureau's top field services swept out of office John B. Dunlap, who as Commissioner of Internal Revenue supervised last year's top-to-bottom reorganization. Before the change of administration, Jan. 20, Dunlap was made district commissioner at Dallas, Tex., where he had spent most of his career in the revenue service.

Dunlap said in a letter made public here by the revenue bureau that the new reorganization would "result in great benefit to the public" and that he felt he could "best serve the bureau" now by getting out. His shift to Dallas had brought some Republican criticism.

Detroit Abolished

Dunlap resigned effective June 30. He had become Commissioner of Internal Revenue in April, 1951, in the midst of congressional investigations of the bureau.

In a joint announcement Thursday, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and T. Coleman Andrews, the new commissioner, said the revision of last year's reorganization would take effect July 1. They said it would:

1. Cut personnel in the field by 400, with a saving of two million dollars a year, and in Washington by 900, with a saving of four million dollars a year.
2. Help bring in more taxes by freeing agents for additional checking of tax returns.

Cities where district offices will remain are Boston, New York City, Philadelphia, Chicago, Atlanta, and Dallas. New district offices will be established in San Francisco, Omaha and Cincinnati.

Cities where district offices are being abolished are Buffalo, Baltimore, Cleveland, Detroit, Louisville, Birmingham, St. Louis, St. Paul, Denver, Los Angeles and Seattle.

Tornado Strikes Liberal, Kansas

(By The Associated Press)

There were wet spots in the West but generally fair and warmer weather was reported in most of the eastern half of the nation today.

Thunderstorms and showers hit sections in the Western Great Plains from Kansas to North Dakota and eastward into Minnesota. There also were thunderstorms along the Eastern slopes of the Rockies in Colorado and Wyoming. Showers also fell in the Northern and West-Central Rockies.

A tornado struck Liberal, in southwestern Kansas, last night, damaging several buildings, including a new $150,000 30-unit motel. There were no casualties. The Weather Bureau had unconfirmed reports of twisters striking at Newcastle, Wyo., and near Hayes, S. D.

California To Paris Flown Non-Stop By Commercial Airliner

PARIS (AP)—A four-engine Douglas DC-6B commercial airliner today completed the first non-stop flight from California to Paris, a distance of 5,700 miles.

The plane, bought from Douglas by the French airline, Transport Aeriens Intercontinentaux, thus broke the record of 3,900 miles for non-stop commercial airliner flight. Manned by a French crew, the liner had no passengers. The plane is the second such craft to be purchased by the French line for service in Europe and Africa.

The flight from Los Angeles to Paris took 20 hours, 28 minutes.

Party-Splitting Avoided By Taft And Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) today avoided any party-splitting break in their relations despite some fundamental differences over U. S. policies in Korea and the Far East.

The White House took the initiative only a few hours after Eisenhower had said at a news conference that "No," he did not agree with Taft's assertion that the U. S. "might as well forget the United Nations as far as the Korean War is concerned."

Only Personal Views

Eisenhower aides called Taft's office to inquire about the health of the Senate Republican leader. They intimated the President planned to address a note of cheer to Taft, hospitalized in Cincinnati with an undiagnosed hip pain. Eisenhower had sent such a message when the senator was in Walter Reed Hospital here last week for a checkup.

Taft was publicly silent about the President's disavowal of the Ohioan's proposal that the U. S. withdraw "from all further peace negotiations in Korea" if present truce talks fail. Aides said Taft would not comment for several days, if at all.

But Robert A. Taft Jr., the senator's son, noted in a telephone interview from Cincinnati that Taft had said in his Tuesday night speech he was giving only his personal views on the Far Eastern situation and had said these views were not intended "as any criticism of what is being done or not done."

Not Called Back

The senator's son said he is satisfied the difference of opinion

Rumbles Continue In Congress About Air Force Cutback

By EDWIN B. HAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's new team of defense chiefs appeared certain today of speedy Senate confirmation, but rumbles continued in Congress about cutbacks in Air Force funds and goals.

A unanimous vote of approval by the Senate Armed Services Committee, yesterday sent the nominations to the Senate for indicated easy confirmation, probably next Tuesday.

Top Brass Shifts

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, the first non-Army man selected as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was hurrying back to the Pacific to wind up his duties as Navy commander in that theater. "I was due in Formosa Monday but I probably can't reach there until Tuesday," he said, adding that he visited Formosa every six months just to check affairs. The island is headquarters for Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist China forces.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, who will take over as Army Chief of Staff, headed back for Europe even before the committee vote. As Supreme Allied Commander in Europe, Ridgway had appointments there and in Iceland before assuming his new post here.

Safety Margin Watched

Adm. Robert B. Carney, named as Chief of Naval Operations, and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, who will be Air Force Chief of Staff also shared the unanimous committee approval.

President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he can give personal assurance that proposed Air Force budget cuts will not reduce America's defenses beyond a margin of safety.

But Twining, in his committee appearance, said he felt the suggested reduction of five billion dollars would "delay the building of a 143-wing Air Force." And 143 wings, Twining said, are essential to the nation's security.

End Of Red German Military Rule Adds Power For Molotov

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY

MOSCOW (AP)—Western diplomats in Moscow said today they regarded replacement of military control by a civilian Soviet High Commissioner in East Germany as considerably strengthening the power of Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

He will now have, they said, direct and personal control of German affairs in the Soviet occupied zone. Previously these had been under the Defense Ministry.

Unity Move Hinted

The Kremlin announced Thursday that V. S. Semyonov, one of this country's leading German experts, had been appointed Soviet High Commissioner for Germany. He will take over from Gen. Vasily Chuikov, chief of the Soviet Control Commission, who will now be limited to command of Soviet occupation forces.

Western observers here think it quite possible that Chuikov will be recalled even from that post and given a new assignment in the Soviet Union.

The diplomats speculated that a reason for the shift might be a possibility that the Soviet Union may propose talks on the reunification of Germany among the civilian High Commissioners of Britain, France, the U. S. and their new appointee, Semyonov.

Reports To Kremlin

Semyonov's appointment, they said, apparently put him on the same level as U. S. High Commissioner James Bryant Conant and the British and French representatives.

Semyonov's appointment carries the rank of ambassador and, as a foreign service official, he will report directly to Molotov.

He has the function of observing the fulfillment by the East German republic of its obligations under the Potsdam Agreement and also of maintaining liaison with the Western Allies on "questions of a general German character."

French Cargo Vessel Arrives At Chicago, First One Since 1974

CHICAGO (AP)—The first vessel flying the French flag into Chicago since the French explorer, Jacques Marquette, touched the Lake Michigan shore in 1674, arrived in Chicago Thursday.

The ship—The Marquette—sailed from Marseilles 65 days ago and called at five Mediterranean ports before crossing the Atlantic and sailing to Chicago through the St. Lawrence river and the Great Lakes. The Marquette is a new diesel powered motorship owned by the Fabre Line.

The Marquette carried a cargo of wines and liquors from France, cork from Spain and Portugal and marble and olives from Italy.

After the ship was tied up Capt. Andre Senft, 40, drank a champagne toast to Chicago.

Escaped Felons Still At Large

MARQUETTE (AP)—The search for four missing long-term convicts who broke out of the tough state prison here a week ago turned elsewhere today. But for a time the hunt was concentrated anew overnight in the rugged area into which they fled.

Altogether seven broke out, overpowering two guards and burning their way through bars with an acetylene torch. One was recaptured quickly and two more later on as they emerged from the dense woodlands into which they ran.

With law enforcement officers turning their attention elsewhere, the report of a stolen pickup truck quickly returned their attention to this area late Thursday. Joseph Hamel of Champion, 30 miles west of Marquette reported his truck stolen.

It was found later on an unopened portion of US-41, about 10 miles from where it was taken. No trace of the thieves was found.

Alger County Sheriff Arthur Moote also reported during the day he saw two men near the Casino prison camp, eight miles from Munising, who answered the description of two of the missing men. The sheriff didn't catch up with them.

Governor Wants His $9540 Back

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary asked the State Supreme Court today not to require him to refund $9,540 which Gov. Williams deposited for last fall's governorship election recount.

Williams has sued Cleary and the State Board of Canvassers to repay the amount, contending that as the winner of the recount he is entitled to a refund under the law.

An attorney general's answer, filed for Cleary, argued that the recount cost the counties heavily and that they were entitled to a pro rated share of the candidates' deposits of $5 per precinct.

The state has refunded $2,960 to Williams for precincts which were not properly included in the recount petition and counter-petition.

Many Seeking Postmaster Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Service Commission made public today the names of hundreds of applicants for the first batch of post-masterships opened up to job hunters since the Republicans won control of them.

The applicants whose names were made public Thursday included Leonard S. Kedrowski, Carl O. E. Basel, Keith G. Knudson, Fred H. Lamb, Herman Johnson, Douglas S. Fairbanks, Bernard C. Shankland, Frank H. Milnor and Fred T. Roussin—all seeking the post-masterships at Cadillac, Mich.

Harvester Wage Cut By 2 Cents

CHICAGO (AP)—The International Harvester Co. says no to interim union contract concessions for 75,000 of its employees similar to those granted by the big three in the auto industry.

"We disagree with the theory that a contract is subject to change whenever one of the parties wants further concessions," President John L. McCaffrey told the workers in a letter.

At the same time, McCaffrey gave notice that a two cent an hour wage reduction would become effective Monday. He recalled, in that connection, that Harvester contracts with AFL, CIO and other unions have cost of living escalator clauses and that government figures issued Wednesday showed a decline which would amount to a two cent an hour decrease in wages for the three-month period starting Monday.

McCaffrey said the company agreed to meet with the unions representing its employees to discuss what may be done after the bureau of labor statistics' old series index ceases to apply after June 30.

Rosenbergs Doomed To Die June 15 In Chair At Sing Sing

NEW YORK (AP)—Condemned atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were sentenced today to die in the Sing Sing Prison electric chair the week of June 15.

This was the fourth time that Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman had set the execution date amid a maze of legal defense maneuvers which are still continuing.

Defense Counsel unsuccessfully sought to have Judge Kaufman postpone the setting of the date until next Monday.

The Rosenbergs were accused of conspiracy to pass atom bomb secrets to Soviet Russia. They are in the Sing Sing death house. Their attorney, Emanuel H.

Dismissals Handed 1,200 In Government Welfare Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Health Education and Welfare Department has given dismissal notices to about 1,200 employees, because of budget cuts.

The notices are based on the prospective budget for the year starting July 1 and some may be rescinded if the Senate approves more money than the House voted.

The Welfare Department has about 37,500 employees in all. The house voted $1,712,284,461 for the department, compared with an Eisenhower request for $1,722,544,870 and a recommendation in January by former President Truman of $1,786,528,761.

Battle Creek Man Gets Mackinac Trip For License Slogan

LANSING (AP)—Enza Cooper of Battle Creek gets a free two-weeks vacation at Mackinac Island out of Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary's contest for a slogan for Michigan auto license plates.

Cooper's name was drawn from a hat Thursday in a drawing to break the tie between 61 persons who suggested the winning slogan "Water Wonderland."

There were 44 of the 61 persons present at dinner sponsored by Cleary. Cooper was not present.

Journalist Freed

VIENNA (AP)—After five day's detention, the Russians have released Dr. Herbert Koenig, an Austrian journalist who until recently headed an anti-Communist news agency reporting news from behind the Iron-Curtain.

Koenig was seized by Russian soldiers Saturday while crossing the demarkation line between the American and Russian zones in a private automobile. He was released Thursday.

Welfare Costs Decline Again

Welfare expenditures in Delta County in March 1953 dropped $4,657.46 from expenditures for the same month in 1952, A. M. Gilbert, welfare director, said today.

Expenditures from federal, state and county funds this March totaled $73,164.68, Gilbert said. Expenditures for March 1952 were $77,822.14.

The March drop in expenditures was similar to the situation in February, when welfare expenditures were $5,466.05 lower than they were in February 1952.

An accompanying table, released by Gilbert, gives a breakdown for March 1953.

Old age assistance, aid to dependent children, and to blind and aid to disabled are financed by state and federal funds, explained Gilbert.

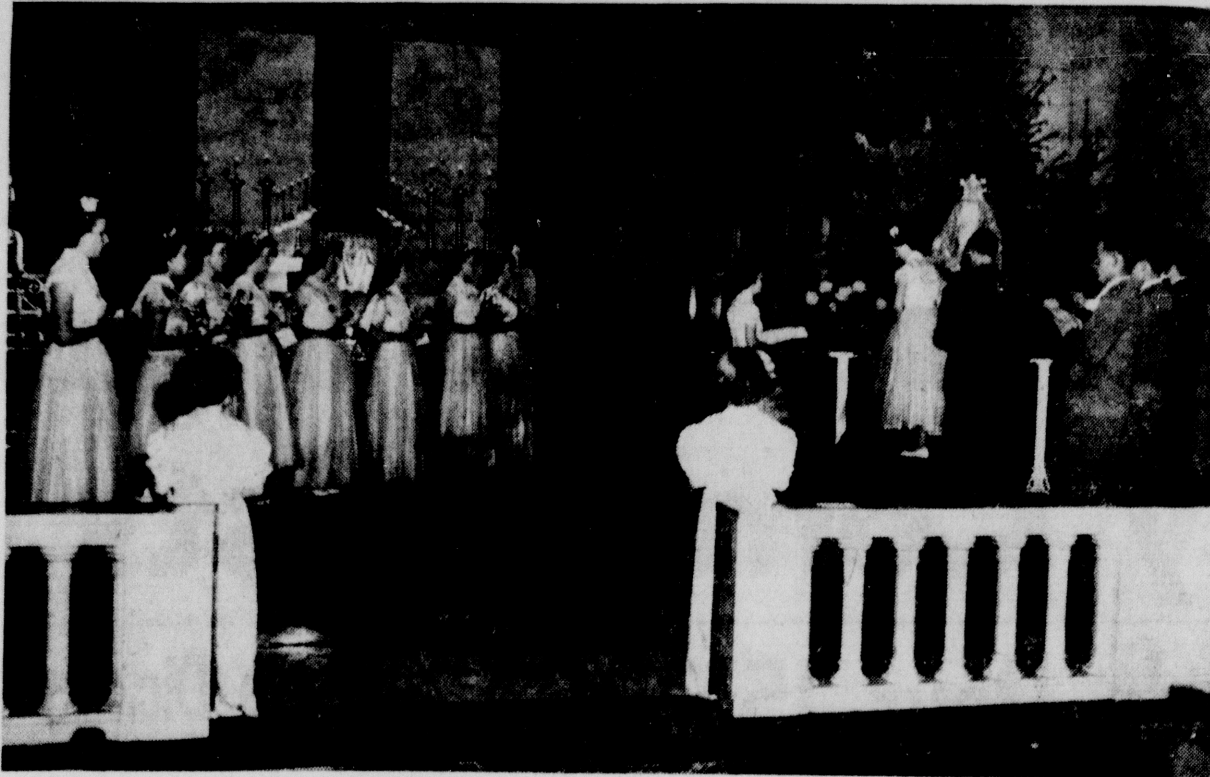

Direct relief is financed by state and county funds.

County welfare and administrative are financed wholly by county funds.

Medical supplement cases are old age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to blind and aid to disabled that are given medical care ONLY for acute illness, Gilbert stated. No provision is made in federal and state grants for this item, he declared.

March, 1953, expenditures:

	Cases	Amount
Old Age Assistance	798	$38,123.50
Aid to Dependent Children	195	18,325.00
Aid to Blind	9	551.50
Aid to Disabled	7	487.50
County Hospitalization		2,349.50
Administrative		1,799.30
Direct Relief	311	$11,028.38
Medical Supplement, 142 cases
Direct Relief, 169 cases
	1,320	$73,164.68

Memorial Day Rites Will Honor War Dead

Business activity will cease Saturday in observance of Memorial Day, a national holiday, with special events to be held in Escanaba under sponsorship of Cloverland Post No. 82, American Legion.

Stores and business offices will be closed for the day. The City Hall, Court House, Post Office and other public buildings and all banks will be closed.

In Escanaba as in other communities the observance of the day will follow a traditional program in which the living will pay tribute to the nation's war dead. Ceremonies at the graves of war heroes, the casting of a wreath upon the water, a parade and a memorial address will be included.

Atty. Root To Speak

Members of the American Legion firing squad will meet at 8 a. m. to start the visits to Holy Cross, Lakeview and Gardens of Rest cemeteries. At 2 in the afternoon they will go to the cemetery at Bark River.

Following a parade at 10 a. m. east on Ludington Street to Ludington Park there will be services in which all veterans organizations will participate. Atty. John H. Root will be the principal speaker at the park ceremony.

Elmer J. Swanson is general chairman of the day, assisted by William Butler, William E. Miron, John Finn and Herman Mielke.

The parade will form at Escanaba Junior High School and will include a large number of units led by the Legion colors and color guard.

Veterans Invited

Units of the parade will include the Escanaba Municipal Band, American Legion, Gold Star Mothers, Disabled War Veterans, Escanaba High School Band, Spanish American War Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, and the National Guard.

Veterans of all wars not belonging to any veterans' organization are particularly invited to participate in the parade with or without uniforms, and to attend the ceremonies of the day.

ATTY. JOHN H. ROOT

All unions and civic organizations also are urged to take part in the parade.

The program at Ludington Park will be presented as follows:

Scholarships Go To 2 Escanabans

Dave Horner Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Gilbert, 1301 Stephenson Ave., and John Franklin Pillotte, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pillotte, 929 Stephenson Ave., were among the 20 high school seniors in Michigan that were awarded college scholarships in the amount of $200 each by American Legion state commander, Eugene N. Houck, Lansing, for establishing top scholastic records in a statewide competition.

Selections were made through the Guy M. Wilson Memorial scholarship committee in honor of the Michigan Legion's third state commander who died in 1936. Now in its 16th year, a cash total of $45,297 in scholarships has been provided 267 Michigan youths during this period.

This year's 20 winners, sons of fathers who are veterans of World Wars and the Korea conflict, may use these scholarships at any Michigan college they choose to attend.

Michigan Veterans Trust Fund Will Be Explained Here

The Michigan Veterans Trust Fund Board of Trustees announced today that a series of area conferences is being held throughout the state in order to better acquaint the Michigan veteran regarding the aims and purposes of the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund.

The meeting for this area will be held at Escanaba in the home of the Cloverland American Legion Post No. 82, 716 Ludington, at 8 p. m. on Thursday, June 11.

Subjects are Trust Fund aims and purposes; brief history of the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund; administrative problems on a county level; and a round table discussion covering veterans' legislation and benefits and the whole veteran program in Michigan.

The meeting will be under the direction of the members of the Board of Trustees and Lawrence J. LaLone, Executive Secretary. All persons interested in veterans' affairs are invited to attend these meetings.

Escanaba Township Eighth Graders Travel To Marquette

Presque Isle Park and Sugar Loaf Mountain were among the attractions visited yesterday by 20 eighth-graders from Escanaba Township schools who traveled to Marquette by bus for a day's outing.

The group, which was accompanied by Lawrence Smith, a teacher, also visited Marquette State Prison, and the fish hatchery.

While in Marquette they visited Kay Hoes, an Escanaba Township girl who contracted polio last year and is in St. Luke's Hospital. Students who went on the outing included Alfred Gareau, Gary Pepin, Robert Rhode, Bill Carlson, Donald Seely, David Harrison, Harold Hagiland, Gerald Plouff, Jim Popelka, Charles Wheatley, Rita Richer, Judy Nelson, Ruth Lisle, Grace Vandres, Marie Solis, Barbara Gustafson, Marie Drossart, Norma Hagman, Carol Soper and Irene Young.

Bus driver was Fred Marenger.

Diplomas Presented To Patients At Pinecrest

POWERS - SPALDING — In an impressive ceremony held yesterday in the auditorium of the hospital at Powers, student-patients of Pinecrest Sanatorium who voluntarily enrolled for education while receiving treatment at the institution were presented with their diplomas.

Members of the graduating class are: Bernice Putsch, Sault Ste. Marie; Hildur Johnson, Carney; Eleanor Desotell, Carney; and two who were unable to attend, Ivan McLeod of St. Ignace and Albert Konkle, Bark River.

The significant part of yesterday's colorful ceremony is that Pinecrest is the only sanatorium in the country which extends the privilege of high school education beyond the special-education age of 25. This was achieved through the cooperation of the Powers-Spalding school and through the extra efforts of the special education instructor, Mrs. Evelyn R. Collins.

A packed auditorium of friends, guests and staff greeted the graduates when they entered to take their places in front of the room, while Mrs. Morris Lambie played the processional. The Rev. Philip Lindblom, pastor of the Salem Lutheran Church of Bark River pronounced the invocation, after which the assembly sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" directed by Mrs. Ted Dault.

Dr. Sweeney Talks — Dr. S. K. Sweeney, associate medical director, greeted the guests at the ceremony, including relatives and friends of the graduates and commended Supt. Sharon for his part in the achievement of special education at Pinecrest. He stressed the various steps of progress in the treatment of tuberculosis and said that at one time the patients had much time on their hands, but that today progress had been made not only in medical treatment but through the progress of various types of therapy.

Miss Hedwig Schupp, director of vocational rehabilitation department stressed that it is never too late to learn, that this is the fifth graduation, the first being when she was the first teacher with ten students in 1947. Out of the ten, there was one graduate.

Certificate Presented — Mrs. Collins then presented certificates from the Speedwriting Company of New York to six students who have completed the course. They were as follows: Naida Young, Gladys Sutherland, Helen Dubin, Pat Casari, June Fredette, and Eleanor Desotell.

The committee in charge of scholarship consists of Carnus Kotchou, editor of Annual and his appointed committee: Supt. Sharon, Mrs. Evelyn Collins, Joanne North, Lillian Kangas, Pat Casari and Dr. John Towey, honorary member. Letters regarding the scholarship fund have been received by Mr. Kotchou.

A very impressive ceremony followed when two little girls, Esther Bacsik of Rapid River, and Florence Sagitaw of Harris were brought in by nurse, Miss Kathy Graham. The little girls were dressed in white caps with blue tassels and gowns just like the big senior girls. Dr. Sweeney introduced them telling that little Florence had been in the Sanatorium on a frame for four years; that they too had taken advantage of the special education program at Pinecrest and were now ready for the first grade. He also mentioned two who had assisted in this teaching program, Miss Naida Young of Rapid River and Miss Casari of Vulcan.

The little girls sang "Jesus Loves Me" for the benefit of the audience.

Supt. Sharon then presented the diplomas first to the kindergarten girls, then to Roger Flath of Escanaba, an eighth grade graduate, a certificate of merit for rug weaving to Ben Witter of BAY VIEW — Mrs. Capitola Bloom was elected president of the Bay View P. T. A. at a meeting which was held Tuesday, May 26, at the Bay View School.

Other officers elected are Mrs. Kay Nichol, vice-president; Mrs. Lorraine Blahnik, secretary; Mrs.

Kenneth Arbour, treasurer; and historian, Mrs. Owen Trombley. Mrs. Irvin Harbath, past president, installed the officers following the election.

A lunch was served and games were played. Honors were held in cards by Mrs. Capitola Bloom, Mrs. Arthur Arbour and Mrs. Charles VanDeWeghe. Members who served on the committee were Mrs. Elair Vanlerbergh Jr. and Mrs. Charles VanDeWeghe.

Quinnesec and diplomas to the seniors. The assembly sang the school song, "Now Is the Hour", and the program was concluded with the benediction by Fr. Walter Franczek of St. Francis Xavier Church.

POWERS-SPALDING—The Powers-Spalding Town Hall was filled to capacity to greet the 21 members of the graduating class as they proudly walked down the aisle between members of the Junior class to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" by Alger, played by the Powers-Spalding School band and directed by John Todd, band instructor.

The program opened with invocation by Rev. Alonzo Mohr, Escanaba, and a salutatory address by Shirley Luft, this was followed with the valedictory address by Donald Belfield, high ranking honor student and written by Helen Andrews, valedictorian of the class of 1953.

Walter Gries, welfare director of Cleveland Mining Company, Ishpeming gave the main address. He commended the class on their motto, "The Foundation of the State is the Education of its Youth," stating that a class with a motto like that would not fail but would have the courage to carry on in spite of obstacles that all of us meet sometime in life. He congratulated them and the community on their beautiful and well equipped new school building.

Supt. Sharon expressed appreciation of the achievements of this class and presented diplomas to them. Special mention was made by Supt. Sharon on the courage and determination to graduate of Ernest DePas who in spite of severe results of polio had ridden the school bus twenty miles a day.

Mr. Sharon also expressed appreciation of the work done by three teachers who are leaving the system: Jerry Anzalone, coach and commercial teacher, Lorraine Dumbrowski, kindergarten teacher, and John Theurauff, vocational agriculture teacher. The benediction was pronounced by Fr. Walter Franczek of St. Francis Xavier, Spalding.

Friends and relatives remained to congratulate the seniors. Later a party was held by the class in the Township Hall.

You Get Leaf-Saving Raking at 7 MPH

...with a JOHN DEERE No. 851 Side Delivery Rake

The John Deere Right-Angle Reel assures you of leafier windrows with a John Deere No. 851 Side-Delivery Rake even when raking at faster speeds.

Hay is moved directly to the left in forming the windrow . . . forward movement of the crop is reduced to half that of conventional rakes. Curved teeth lift the hay gently . . .

ground drive keeps reel speed in correct ratio to ground speed to form windrows with a minimum of movement.

Extra-strong construction, wheel-and-reel-in-line design, floating reel, adaptability for hydraulic control, and generous use of lifetime lubrication-sealed bearings are other outstanding features. See us for details.

Stop Potato Blights with dependable Du Pont

PARZATE

Fungicide

Now you can stop early blight and late blight at their worst . . . and keep spray costs down while your yields go up. Du Pont "Parzate" does the job and does it economically. Use it all season long; it gives full protection in the field and reduces danger of blight rot in storage.

When you use "Parzate" for blight control, the leaves stay greener, and the vines grow more vigorously. That's because "Parzate" doesn't burn or stunt the crop while it controls disease. It's also the reason why you get higher yields and more No. 1 potatoes.

Manzate, Du Pont's newest fungicide in the same dithiocarbamate family as "Parzate" is especially effective for control of potato and tomato diseases. On potatoes, it's ideal where early and late blight attack at the same time. Try "Manzate" this season on a test acreage.

Use "Parzate" liquid nabam for quick-mixing sprays.

Use "Parzate" dry (zineb) for dust mixtures or for sprays.

Blood Collection Program Has Urgent Need Of 440 Donors

ON the feature page of the Press today is an article about a letter written by Pvt. Reynold Brandt, serving in Korea, which relates the importance of the blood collection program to our servicemen in the war areas.

This letter is graphic evidence that the blood you donate is urgently needed in Korea and that it is saving the lives of your countrymen and its Allies.

The blood program is important to you, too, from a purely selfish viewpoint. The life you save with the blood you donate may be your own! Or it may save the life of a loved one, your wife, perhaps, or your son or daughter. Or perhaps your mother or dad.

A portion of the blood collected in Delta County will be allocated to Delta County in the form of blood plasma or other blood derivatives, each of them important in one or another phase of life saving.

Delta County's quota in the blood collection program next week is 440 pints. That means 440 persons have to donate one pint each. And to get 440 donors, it means that a larger number of persons must offer to give blood. Some will be rejected for one reason or another.

The blood collection unit will be in Rapid River one day, Gladstone one day and in Escanaba two days. Arrange for an appointment at one of these places during the four days that the unit will be in Delta County.

If you have already given blood, you are aware that the process is painless and without ill-effects. If you have not given blood at anytime, would like to do so but are leery that perhaps it is an unpleasant experience, we suggest that you talk to someone who has been a donor in the past. You will be reassured that it is simple, not unpleasant nor harmful.

It is a contribution to your fellowmen—

Power With Words

(Answers of general interest will be published.)

Caught short—J. T. Everett, Wash.—On the stock exchange, a speculator is said to "sell short" when he makes a contract to sell a security that he does not own but expects to obtain later, usually at a price lower than he has agreed to sell it. He is said to be caught short when, in order to make delivery, he must buy at a loss to himself.

Kenya—D. S. W., Oklahoma City, Okla.—Those who should be able to pronounce the name of the African colony, Kenya, with authority seem to have different opinions. The British Broadcasting Corporation gives it KEN-yah, but many prominent British statesmen, including Winston Churchill, call it KEN-yah.

origin of punctuation—I. N. P., East Aurora, N. Y.—I can do no better than to quote the account given by Gould Brown on the origin of punctuation points in his "Grammar of English Grammars," published a hundred years ago. He wrote: "The precise origin of the points is not easy to trace in the depths of antiquity. It appears probable, from ancient manuscripts and inscriptions, that the period (.) is the oldest of them. . . . But after the adoption of the small letters, which improvement is referred to the ninth century, both the comma (,) and the colon (:) came into use, and also the Greek note of interrogation Though the colon is of Greek origin, the practice of writing it with two dots we owe to the Latin authors, or perhaps to the early printers of Latin books. The semi-colon (;) was first used in Italy, and was not adopted in England until about the year 1600. Our marks for questions (?) and exclamations (!) were also derived from the same source, probably at a date somewhat earlier. The curves of the parenthesis () have likewise been in use for several centuries. The dash (-) appeared in the latter half of the eighteenth century.

The Doctor Says . . . Ragweed and Grass Pollens Are Main Hay Fever Causes

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Most victims of "hay fever" do not have fever and their trouble does not come from hay. In the late spring or early summer, however, there are some who suffer with sneezing, runny noses or watery eyes. This goes by various names, including rose cold, summer cold, or spring hay fever. It is often caused by grass pollens.

Hay fever is usually caused by plant pollens floating in the air. Several different pollens can produce the symptoms of hay fever, although the ragweeds and their relatives are responsible for more trouble in the United States and Canada than any others.

Timothy, June grass and Bermuda grass are important sources of spring hay fever. The first two—Timothy and June grass, are the worst in the northern parts of the United States, whereas in the south, Bermuda grass is the most important.

Timothy, which is also known as herd's grass, rat-tail or soldier's feather, grows wild and under cultivation through nearly all of North America. This grass sheds its pollen in late June and early July. This takes place principally in the early hours of morning, shortly after midnight, and and to yourself—that is in some ways more important than any contribution you could possibly make in terms of money.

Think it over. Then call the Red Cross and ask them to make an appointment for you in one of the four days that the mobile unit will be in Delta County.

AP's Reputation Confirmed By Court

THE charge of Sen. Morse, the Oregon independent who bolted the Republican party in the election campaign last fall, that the Associated Press is a "slanted news reporting service" is a ridiculous charge wholly lacking in any substance. The Associated Press has gained and has earned its reputation as the greatest news gathering agency in the world. And it has won its reputation because of the accuracy and scope of its reporting service.

Sen. Morse was piqued because of a story written by G. Milton Kelly, of the Associated Press, after an interview with Morse. Kelly is a former Upper Peninsula newspaperman. He left the Houghton Mining Gazette about 20 years ago to join the Associated Press and worked in the Michigan office of the AP for many years. His writing and his reputation are well known to readers of Michigan Associated Press newspapers. It is a reputation for accuracy that far exceeds that of Sen. Morse.

There is, of course, no such thing as an independent in American politics. A senator may be a Republican independent or a Democratic independent but he can never be elected simply as an independent. Sen. Morse was elected as a Republican. Later he changed his political stripes and said that henceforth he is an independent. When he comes up for reelection in Oregon and if he chooses to run, he will find that the designation "independent" is a political curse.

It is well to point out in connection with the charge of Sen. Morse that the U. S. Supreme Court in its famous decision in the case of the Chicago Sun did not agree with the viewpoint of Sen. Morse that the Associated Press is a "slanted news reporting service". In that decision the Supreme Court paid the highest tribute possible to the Associated Press. The Court said that the Associated Press is so outstanding in its field, with a reputation so widespread, that a newspaper that may be denied Associated Press service is placed in a disadvantageous position with its competitors.

RUBBISH ON HIGHWAYS (Marquette Eagle Staff)

The other day an Oconto County highway department truck stopped on highway 64 long enough for one of the employees to pick up a beer can on the right of way and add it to the rubbish the crew was collecting.

In the first mile and a half, two members of the Iron County highway department picked up enough beer bottles and cans, liquor bottles and other rubbish to fill their truck.

It is a deplorable situation when the motoring public has so little regard for the scenic beauty of the roadsides and litters them with bottles, cans and anything else it wants to throw out of the car windows. The situation prompted the law sponsored by Assemblyman LaFave of Oconto County which now makes it illegal to toss lighted matches, burning tobacco or any other waste material from cars, trucks or trains on Wisconsin highways.

The difficulty will be in enforcing the new law, but there will be occasions when offenders are caught redhanded by county officers and when these occasions arise, they should be attended by full publicity. To publicize the offenses will be one way to acquaint the public with the provisions of the law and gradually such offenses may be reduced to a minimum.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The inside story of how President Eisenhower happened to call the Big Three Bermuda conference indicates that if he hadn't called it both the French and British were ready to sit down in a conference of their own with Malenkov.

Seeds for the conference were originally planted in Paris during the recent NATO conference, though the seeds were planted in reverse and not by the United States. They came about as a result of the cool, but polite, brush-off given the British by Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of Defense Wilson and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey when the British sought to discuss trade and economic problems.

The French also became alarmed over the aloofness of Eisenhower's three top cabinet members on the subject of foreign aid. Despite all the talk, about continuing European defense, they knew that Europe couldn't get better defense for less dollars. French pro-American leaders were also concerned over the way French socialists were teaming up with French Communists.

As a result, the French cabinet held a meeting on the weekend of May 9 and decided France should take the lead in calling a Big Four conference with Malenkov, Churchill, Eisenhower and Mayer participating.

Premier Mayer immediately advised Churchill of this decision, also sent word to Eisenhower. This, incidentally, was prior to Churchill's speech proposing a Big Four conference.

Meanwhile, Eisenhower had been in touch with both Churchill and Premier Mayer. He had phoned Churchill prior to his speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, had also advised Mayer of the general nature of his speech. All in all, Eisenhower had two phone conversations with Churchill and exchanged half a dozen letters, in which he consistently opposed a Big Four conference.

IRKED OVER MCCARTHY

Finally, on May 20, Eisenhower became indignant over the trans-Atlantic furore lashed up by the McCarthy-Attlee statements and decided something must be done to save Anglo-French-American friendship so rapidly going down the drain.

That day he discussed the problem at a National Security Council, then went out for a round of golf. After golf he had dinner with Bob Cutler, the Boston banker now on Ike's staff; C. D. Jackson, ex-Fortune publisher who is White House adviser on psychological warfare; and "Beetle" Smith, Undersecretary of State who served as Ike's chief of staff during the war.

At dinner, plans were discussed for a Big Three conference to prepare for or perhaps veto a subsequent Big Four conference—Malenkov to be the fourth conferee.

After dinner, Ike put in a call to Churchill. By that time it was about 2 a. m. in London, but knowing Churchill seldom goes to bed before 3 a. m., Eisenhower figured he would still be up. He was. And he okayed the idea of meeting in Bermuda.

Eisenhower also communicated with the French, including Ambassador Henri Bonnet, whose wife sometimes plays bridge with the President. Bonnet also gave approval to the conference, but suggested first, that since French leaders were scheduled to visit Turkey about June 17, it would be better to hold the conference later in the month; second, since the French cabinet might fall next day, Bonnet urged that announcement of the conference be made early next morning.

The announcement was made as requested, but not early enough to prevent the downfall of Premier Mayer.

Note: Eisenhower is opposed to a fixed agenda at Bermuda, wants the agenda to include the world. The French and British feel that the subjects to be discussed should include: Korea, Indo-China, Austria and Germany, and, most delicate of all, a U. N. seat for Red China.

IRATE CHARLEY WILSON

Secretary of Defense Wilson has been clamoring for the scalps of the Air Force officers who put an "official" Air Force statement into the hands of Democratic Congressman Sam Yorty of California, thereby contradicting Wilson's own version of the recent budget cuts.

Inside story is that the statement was not intended to be "official" but was put together in response to a telephone request from Yorty to the Air Force legislative office on Capitol Hill. This is the office which handles all queries from congressmen.

The officer who compiled the answer to Congressman Yorty was Maj. Robert Gimsburgh. However, it contained only unclassified, nonsecret information which the Air Force is required to furnish any congressman upon request. Further, the same facts had been supplied to Secretary Wilson.

The statement was dropped at Yorty's office by Col. Robert Kelly while the congressman was out. Yorty immediately seized upon it as the "official" position of the Air Force. Only Air Force officer who may be in trouble over the incident is Maj. Ed Hyland, who told reporters that the statement was the Air Force's "official" position. Actually, the statement had not been cleared with top Air Force officers, though they undoubtedly will uphold the facts when called upon to testify.

Aliens At Ft. Dix:

U.S. Army Likes It's Foreign Legion, And Feeling Is Mutual

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

FORT DIX, N. J. (NEA)—The U. S. Army likes its new "foreign legion."

And the foreign legion likes the U. S. Army.

This mutual admiration in the program which permits young men of 18 to 35 from countries behind the Iron Curtain to don GI uniforms for five years in exchange for American citizenship makes it a tremendous, proven Army manpower potential.

Only excessive red tape and restrictions in the recruiting and clearance procedures in Europe now keep it from living up to all of the high expectations of former Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., originator of the idea.

"These men are mature, able and serious," says Brig. Gen. Oliver P. Newman, acting commander of the Ninth (training) Division, "and make mighty fine soldiers."

There are more than 50 aliens currently in various stages of basic training here at Fort Dix. This will bring the total number trained close to 600, and Newman says they are doing so well they have erased any doubts about the wisdom of the idea.

The Lodge law permits the Army to take 12,500 of these aliens, almost enough for a full division. But due to complicated recruiting methods only 6000 men have applied. Because of elaborate procedures for their clearance—including the use of underground sources—only a few have made the grade.

The present crop of aliens is typical. They speak fairly good English, a requirement for acceptance. They range from 20 to 32. Most of them have had previous military experience. All have dramatic personal stories to tell. Many have changed their names to protect relatives left behind in the Iron Curtain countries.

Michael Kuzel, 27, is originally from the Russian Ukraine. During the last war he served with a German division. After the war he worked in a Belgian coal mine. He doesn't know whether his parents are still alive.

"Nobody in Europe would pass up this chance to get U. S. citizenship," Kuzel says. "Five years' service in the Army is really a pretty cheap price to pay, too, because the food, equipment and pay are all good."

That reaction to the American Army is echoed by the others. Once induced they are treated like any other GI in service. Most of the aliens plan to find some kind of civilian career in the U. S. after their five years of service are up.

No so Klimeczak Czeslaw, a 27-year-old Pole, probably the most enthusiastic man in the bunch for the American way of life.

"I can't think of anything better than serving in the American Army. The training is interesting. The young men you live with are all so friendly. I want to get in combat as soon as possible, too, so I can get promotions," Czeslaw says.

He has been separated from his family since near the end of World War II when he was forced into the German Army. He saw only one week of combat before peace came.

CHOWTIME AT FORT DIX gives alien GI Frantisek Haki (left), late of Czechoslovakia, a chance to swap experiences with Richard Marx, Bound Brook, N. J. They live, train together.

Youngest man of the group is Joseph Tyderle, 20, of Czechoslovakia. His father was killed by the Russians and his mother fled to West Germany.

"You see, it is a matter of prestige to my mother back there, having a son in the U. S. Army," Tyderle explains. His goal is to go to college when his five years are up. He had some experience as a wallpaper designer before coming to America. He regularly sends money home from his salary.

He, too, is eager to get in combat. Like most of the aliens, he believes a war with Russia is inevitable before his five years are up. "We just feel that a full war with Russia is coming," he says. "And we are all happy to have the chance to fight on the side of the Americans, with Americans," he claims.

A training officer in charge of many of the aliens is high in praise of them. "They take wonderful care of their equipment, they learn awful fast and they take the training very seriously," he says. He adds that their maturity has a steady and beneficial effect on the younger U. S. GIs with whom they live.

The young foreigners are impressed with the freedom and friendliness they find in the nearby cities of New York and Trenton on their time off. They're more attracted to art galleries, museums and concerts than the average American GI.

They're all sort of lukewarm about American girls, however. "Everything you buy in America now is frozen," says Jerzy Ochocinski, of Poland, "and apparently the girls here are trying to follow the trend, because they seem frozen, too."

All of the aliens are reluctant to discuss details of their escape from behind the Iron Curtain for fear of implicating friends and relatives who helped them. Many refuse to permit their pictures used for that reason, too.

So They Say

This is God's country. I have never forgotten it in the 42 years I have been away.—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, returning to his home town of Bartow, Fla.

Man has very little insight into what is going on within himself.—Albert Einstein.

I am proud to be the rear guard for such a gallant group of soldiers. I'll try to carry on in the highest tradition of Abe Lincoln's forces until the very end.—Albert Woolson, last Union veteran of the Civil War.

Keep your head down. You'd better keep the other end down, too.—Colonel instructing reporters viewing A-bomb blast from ad-versed positions.

The "United States" heart and mind are in Korea.—Adlai Stevenson, visiting Korea.

I'm a firm believer in monogamy, and I've got a wife and four kids to prove it.—Troup Mathews, editor of Voice of America's French section, denying advocacy of free love.

I would rather witness it (atomic explosion) in a test on this (Nevada) desert than see it over Arkansas.—Pvt. Charles A. Biggs, of Salado, Ark.

No one can reasonably expect negotiations of this kind—where two sides are so far apart—to give any clear indication at the beginning.—Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief UN truce negotiator, on resumption of truce talks.

I believe there is no magic by which one element of this military team can accomplish our western defense mission.—NATO commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, to NATO officers at close of a secret defense test.

We accomplished some good, hard, practical results which I think on one hand protected the interests of the United States and on the other built up the strength of NATO in which we were all interested.—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, on recent NATO conference.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

GOOD CITIZENS—The season is at hand again for the vandals to take up their business of destroying public property.

Just why they should wait until spring-time to begin is difficult to say, except it is at this season that parks and playgrounds open and they must turn to their favorite form of recreation—breaking park benches, defacing trees and signs, damaging lawns and shrubs, writing their names in public places, and carving their initials everywhere.

The good citizen is one who recognizes his responsibility toward his fellow men. He refuses to engage in destructive habits that cause time and work and money to repair.

There appears to be little that will curb the thoughtless individual, but we can try.

THE OWNERS—Perhaps the persons who like to destroy public property might look at it differently if they could accept the truth that they are part owners of that property.

Through taxes and other sources of revenue from the people, government establishes parks and playgrounds and other public recreation facilities. Therefore the property is in public ownership.

When thoughtless people deface, destroy and damage public property they are hurting themselves and increasing their own costs of government.

Sometimes this carelessness, when a forest fire is started for example, can cause loss of a vital resource that continues into the next generation.

THE BROKEN WINDOWS—The thoughts come to mind in connection with acts of vandalism recently reported in Escanaba.

Windows in school buildings and the city Recreation Center have been broken, street lamps smashed, insulators shot from electric lines, and cars driven across park lawns.

At the Recreation Center (Club 314) two windows were broken last week and two this week. Others were broken earlier this spring. Stones were thrown through them at night.

"This building is for all the young people of Escanaba and I hate to think they really want to damage the recreation center provided for them," said Art Petersen, recreation director.

"Whoever did it probably doesn't know how much extra work it involves in replacing those windows, as well as the expense," he added. "There are other things we have to do. Fixing windows delays us in getting ready for the summer program." We pointed out to Art that it might be put this way: No one would throw rocks through the windows of his own house, so why break windows in his club?

FOR WHITTILERS—Another bothersome pest in parks in summertime is the individual with a knife and a desire to whittle and carve.

Unless his activities are curbed he will cut the bark from birch trees, hack his way through benches, deface the tops of picnic tables, and cut his initials everywhere.

At Pioneer Trail Park and at other state and national parks across the country the boys with knives are being encouraged to cut and slash—on whittling logs. These logs are soon badly worn, but it does save the benches and tables and trees.

CIVIC PRIDE—Within the cities the people sometimes overlook increasing evidence of a breakdown in civic pride.

Streets and parks and alleys become cluttered with cast-off paper and debris. No one uses the waste receptacles placed for that purpose. Shrubby and flowers and trees become trampled and neglected.

This condition does not result by accident. The people have become so careless in their actions, so thoughtless of their personal obligation toward the community they feel no sense of pride in public ownership.

Over a period of years the standards fall lower and lower. The sloppy and untidy look has become the rule rather than the exception.

No amount of efficient operation on the part of city crews can keep up with the thoughtless inefficiencies of the people. Costs rise under the burden of increased work. And the people pay the added cost to repair the damage they have created.

Picnic time—when keys break in two when you start to open a can of sardines.

O-JIB-WA BITTERS OFFERS NEW HOPE TO ARTHRITIS SUFFERERS

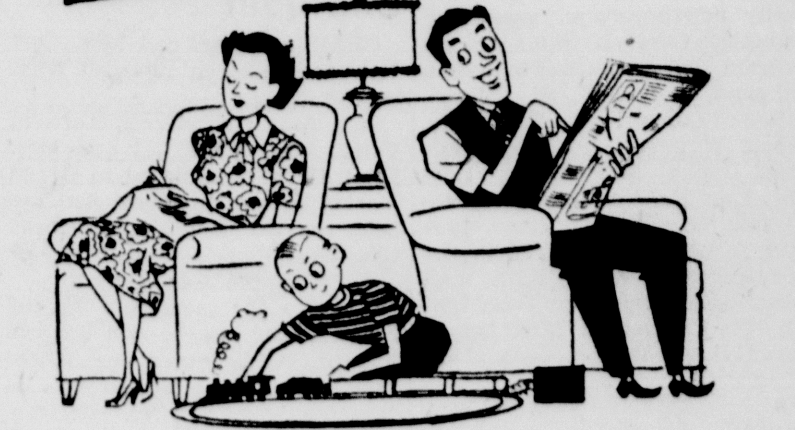

Thousands of Michigan people say: I would have saved myself a lot of painful suffering and money if I had tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS sooner.

Regardless of what you have done or tried without results, you owe it to yourself to give O-JIB-WA BITTERS a fair trial. Rheumatism, Arthritis and Neuritis sufferers in every city in Michigan report amazing results from O-JIB-WA BITTERS. Mrs. C. R. Brown, R. No. 2, 840 Green

Mostly in my arms, legs and shoulders. The pain was so bad I couldn't sleep nights and it bothered my nerves so much that my stomach was also upset. Whenever the weather was damp, I was so crippled up I could hardly get around. There were days at a time that I couldn't raise my arms to comb my hair. I tried everything I heard of, but nothing seemed to help me until I tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS on the advice of a friend. After suffering for so long a time, I could hardly believe it myself when I was so much better in just three weeks. Altogether, I took your medicine for three months, and what a change it has made in my life. I feel fine now and am able to do anything. I haven't an ache or pain in my body and my stomach and nerves are also better. O-JIB-WA BITTERS has proven itself to me. I am convinced there is nothing better for arthritis and neuritis. I have recommended it to many people, and they too, got the same wonderful results that I did.

I suffered terribly for 3½ years. At All Leading Drug Stores CITY, PEOPLES, BISHOP, WALK, IVORY DRUG STORES IN ESCANABA, DEHLIN DRUG, IVORY DRUG IN GLADSTONE, PUTNAM DRUG, SIDDALL DRUG IN MANISTIQUE.

WDBC Granted 50-Year Lease

Escanaba City Council in special meeting today approved a 50-year lease of a city-owned site at Sand Point to the Delta Broadcasting Company where its WDBC studio is located.

The Council placed a rental of $10 a month on the site, the same as the present lease rental, and stipulated that proposed enlargement of the building will be made to conform as closely as possible to architecture of the city water plant and the beach house. The building enlargement design will be subject to Council approval.

Frank Lindenthal of Delta Broadcasting Company was assured by the Council that the city will place protective fill back of the radio station to protect it from waves and ice.

Extension Approved
The Council will also write into the new lease that if use of the radio station building for broadcasting purposes is halted the city will have first option to purchase.

The Escanaba zoning Board of Appeals yesterday afternoon approved an application by the Delta Broadcasting Company to enlarge its studio building at Sand Point, located on land leased from the city.

Three of the five members of the Appeal Board voted "Yes" and two did not vote on the motion to grant the application, which was made following considerable discussion. Comprising the Board are Art Jensen, chairman, L. J. Jacobs, Chris Nicholson, Emil Zitzer and W. P. Schuldes.

The application to construct a 20-foot extension across the front of the station was referred to the Board of Appeals by the City Council because it involves the extension of the station, a commercial enterprise, in a Class A residential area.

Heard Other Cases
However, City Council originally had approved leasing the site for the station. The present lease will not expire until 1972 and WDBC has an option to renew for an additional 25 years.

Attending the session were Frank Lindenthal and Robert Wagner of WDBC; City Manager A. V. Aronson and Robert Clayton, city planning director.

In other cases the Board of Appeals granted a six-month permit to Mrs. Harold Minor to move her house trailer from 102 N. 23rd St. to 1430 N. 20th St. A "hardship case," the trailer had to be moved because the space now being occupied is being converted by the owner of the land to other uses.

The Board took under advisement the application of Lawrence Pavlik to move a small house on to a lot at 813 Second Ave. S.

Diplomas Awarded At Hermansville

HERMANVILLE—Seventeen seniors were graduated from Hermansville High School at the annual commencement in the Hermansville Community Club on Tuesday, May 26 at 8 p. m.

Jean Worth, editor of the Menominee Herald Leader, the county newspaper, addressed the graduates. Other numbers on the program were: Invocation, Rev. Hofmann, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church; accordion solo, Robert Whitens; salutatory address, Donna Mae Davis; class will, Dorothy Mae Stocker; vocal solo, Sue Doran; class prophecy, Barbara Jean Johnson; valedictory, Barbara Jean Rodman; Benediction, Rev. John Larson, M. E. Church, Mrs. Leo T. Doran played the processional and recessional for the occasion.

Diplomas and awards were presented to the graduates by Jack Kleimola, superintendent of the Meyer Township Schools. A scholarship was awarded William Anderson by the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton. A Michigan State Entrance Scholarship was presented to Barbara Jean Rodman.

Miss Rodman, valedictorian and Miss Donna Mae Davis, salutatory, were presented medals, gifts of the Josten Company, of Owatonna, Minn. Miss Rodman also received a Readers' Digest subscription for one year.

A capacity audience attended the program. The students wearing navy caps and gowns were seated on a stage decorated with flowers. Following the program the group formed a line and received congratulations from the people attending.

Aged Resident Dies In Hospital

John Friedgen Sr., of 1316 2nd Ave. S., long time resident of Escanaba, died yesterday afternoon at St. Francis Hospital where he was admitted Tuesday. He was 91.

Mr. Friedgen was born in Luxembourg Feb. 11, 1862 and he came to Escanaba as a youth of 17. He was employed on the Chicago & North Western ore docks until 1929 when severe injuries received in a fall through a dock chute forced his retirement.

He was a member of St. Joseph's Church and its Holy Name Society. He also was affiliated with the Top Dock Workers Union.

His wife died in November of 1942.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Earl (Elizabeth) Aiken, Escanaba; four sons, John Jr., Escanaba; Victor of Ford River, and Joseph and Henry, Escanaba; 7 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren; and one brother, James, of Newberry.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m., Saturday at St. Joseph's Church with Father Stephen Schneider, O. F. M., officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery. Friends may call at the Degnan Funeral Home where the rosary will be recited at 8 this evening.

Plankinton Agent Is Fined $95 For Color Placed In Sausages

MANISTIQUE—Jack Hamilton, Menominee, agent of Plankinton Packing Company, today pleaded guilty in Justice V. P. Deemer's court to a violation of Michigan food laws and was assessed a fine of $95 and costs of $5.

Specifically the Plankinton Company through its agent is charged with having sold sausage products to a Manistique grocery store that failed to meet the state's standards because of the addition of artificial color, contrary to the Michigan comminuted meat law.

Hamilton first appeared in court May 12 on complaint of Jack Hartzell, Escanaba, inspector for the bureau of marketing and enforcement, Michigan Department of Agriculture. Hamilton asked continuance, which was granted to May 29 with the posting of a $300 bond.

Escanaba School Art Exhibit Will Be Open Tonight

Because of interest in the Escanaba public school art exhibit it will continue open tonight from 7 to 9 p. m., to permit attendance of parents and other adults, it is announced. The exhibit is in the Junior High School gymnasium.

Work of students in the grade schools and in the Junior and Senior High School art classes is displayed in the show that opened yesterday.

The exhibit is directed by Charlene Loebel, art supervisor in the grades, and Margaret Krantstover, art supervisor in the Junior and Senior High Schools.

3 Pass Tests For Practical Nursing

Three Escanaba area residents, Mrs. Roma Hodges, Pinecrest Sanatorium, Powers; Mrs. Florence Wilson, Manistique, and Miss Irene Moraski, Schaffer, have successfully passed their State Board examination for practical nurses. They will be issued a numbered certificate of registration of a licensed practical nurse within a few weeks.

The three practical nurses are graduates of the Upper Peninsula Center for Practical Nurse Education, Graveland High School, Marquette. Their examination was given last Oct. 7 in Marquette.

The next examination for practical nurses in this area will be given Friday, June 12, at Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette.

Briefly Told

John Palarski—John Palarski, who graduates from Michigan State College Sunday, June 7, is the son of Mrs. Margaret Palarski, 421 1/2 S. 9th St.

Bitten By Dog—David Cuire of 2415 Ludington was bitten yesterday by a dog owned by Lawrence Peterson, 2326 Ludington, it was reported to police. The owner of the dog has been ordered to keep the animal confined for 10 days for rabies observation.

Special Meeting—Escanaba City Council will meet in special session at 11 a. m. Monday in City Hall to give second reading to utility rate ordinances. Today in special meeting the Council adopted appropriation and tax levy ordinances for the fiscal year 1953-54. The Council also discussed the location of parking meters in the city and will continue its discussion at the Monday meeting.

Appeal Received—The State Tax Commission has received and filed Delta County's request for an appeal from the county's tax millage allocation. Supervisor Guy Knutson, finance chairman, said today. The State Tax Commission will hold a hearing to determine whether the allocation of 7.5 mills to the county and 7.5 mills to the schools is just and equitable. No date has been set for the hearing.

rea in the preparation of the new proposal.

Basic Issue Unchanged
It was known that the letter was approved by President Syngman Rhee and was taken by South Korean government leaders to represent the views of the Republic of Korea.

President Eisenhower in Washington told a news conference Thursday the U. S. never would accept any solution for the war which its conscience tells it is unfair to South Korea.

The President said there is no wavering on the basic issue blocking an armistice. No Chinese or North Koreans will be sent home against their will, he said.

Choi listed as the "first major concession" in the new Allied plan the dropping of the May 13 Allied proposal to release 34,000 North Koreans in South Korea immediately after a truce. Under the new plan, these prisoners along with 14,500 Chinese prisoners would be turned over to the custody of a five-member neutral nations repatriation commission.

Soo Hill Eighth Grade Graduates Feted At Banquet

The eighth grade pupils of the Soo Hill School had their graduation banquet Wednesday evening at the Sherman Hotel.

Superintendent Lawrence Klug presented the eleven graduates with their diplomas following his words of congratulation. Klug emphasized the great need of every child to attend high school. Our country, he said, is the only country where every child can obtain a free high school education. He expressed his pride in their accomplishment saying their graduation is a milestone in their lives.

Mrs. Donnelly Entertains

Mrs. Henry Donnelly of Escanaba told two of her entertaining stories upon the request of the class.

The class gave its own invocation in unison to begin the program.

Mrs. Ruth Roese, the teacher of the graduation class, welcomed class members, parents and guests who shared the pleasant experience which marked the close of a successful school year.

Mrs. Steve Maziarz presented a poem dedicated to the class which she herself had composed.

Charlene Chailier and Carol Irving sang "Whispering Hope". Mrs. Roese presented her class with remembrances of the occasion, and was herself presented with a gift by her students.

Group singing closed the program.

Flower Decorations
The tables were beautifully decorated with tapers and tulip and apple blossom flower arrangements. At the head table were seated Supt. and Mrs. Klug, Mrs. Agnes Gleich, Miss Mary Link and Mrs. Henry Donnelly.

The Soo Hill graduating class included: Robert Anderson, Ardis Cartwright, Patsy LeMarsch, Leonard LeMarsch, Mary Maziarz, Larry Nickell, Kathleen Randall, Lillian Peterson, Jeanine Sodergren. Guest Eighth graders were Charlene Chailier and Carol Irving.

Kathleen Randall and Mary Maziarz, Kathleen Randall, Lillian Peterson and Robert Anderson had perfect attendance records.

The Utah

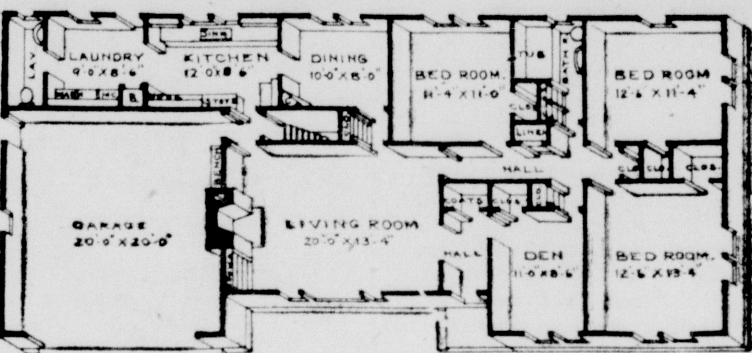

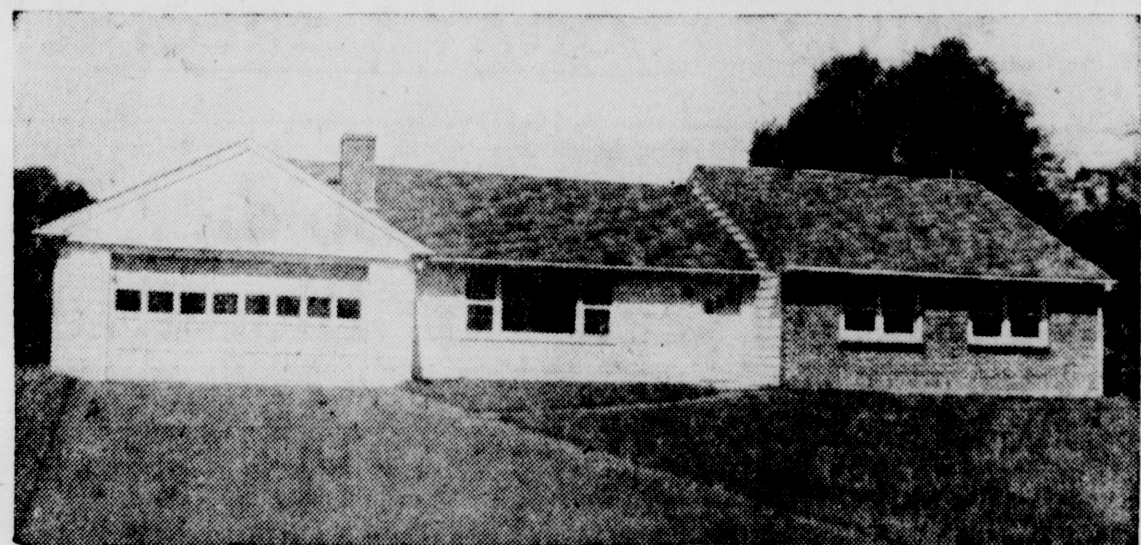

A Pleasing, Ranch Style House

Rooms Eight
Bedrooms Four
Closets Seven
Cubage 34,800 ft.
Dimensions 67' x 29'

Typical of the modern ranch type homes so popular with today's builders, "The Utah" contains eight spacious, well planned rooms.

With overall dimensions of 67' x 29', "The Utah" has a cubage of 34,800 feet. At least a 90 foot lot would be required to hold this ranch house. To best emphasize the informal architectural charms of this home set it back a good distance from the street, and have sufficient land on all sides. It's a mistake to try and "sandwich" a home of this type too near to other residences or larger buildings.

Using a combination finish for the exterior (as in the illustration) always lends an individual touch to the overall appearance of a house. However, if you prefer all wood or masonry for the exterior of your home you can use either finish with completely satisfactory and flattering results on "The Utah." Brightness and warmth can be added to the exterior by using colored roofing.

"Where to sleep" presents no problem for the owners of "The Utah." In addition to the three good sized bedrooms there is a den which can serve as a regular bedroom or guest room with equal ease.

"The Utah" also features a generous amount of centrally located storage facilities. In the bathroom is an extra large, sectioned closet; one half of this closet could very conveniently be used for storing towels while the other section can hold your family's toilet articles and first aid supplies. Then, the linen closet, which opens on the central hall-

one that is steadily gaining favor with many home owners, to convert one of the general purpose closets in the house into a cedar closet where woolen clothing and blankets can safely be stored

Planned definitely as a work center, the all modern kitchen in "The Utah" contains no room for a breakfast nook. However, the cozy dining room, opening to the right off the kitchen, is a convenient, pleasant spot in which to serve all family meals. You can keep your "best" china in the built-in cabinet in the left front corner of the dining room.

All your laundry equipment can easily be installed in the spacious well lighted first floor laundry. Easy access to the backyard is provided by the door in the back wall of the room.

The heating plant should be installed under the living room in the basement of "The Utah." The use to which you put the remaining basement area is up to you.

Bicycling In Gay '90's Is Told By W.S. Crowe, A Pioneer Racing Star

(Editor's note: The following article describing bicycling in Manistique in the "gay nineties" was written by W. S. Crowe at the request of the Press.)

By W. S. CROWE

MANISTIQUE — The bicycle is now a commonplace article in such universal use that it is difficult for folks of today to understand why there should ever have been such a thing as a "bicycle craze."

Nevertheless, there has never been anything in America like the "bicycle craze" of the "Gay Nineties." It affected young and old—men, women and children—to the extent that when two or more people got together, about the only topic of conversation would be their "wheels" or what to wear when "wheeling." To understand it, one must have a picture of the background which made it possible.

Manistique was then a town of wooden business blocks, and houses set far apart on large lots and not a tree in town (except the big elm on Arbutus St.), but closely surrounded by dense pine forests twice as high as our present woods, wood sidewalks, board fences (to keep the cows out of the yards), unpaved streets lighted by kerosene lamps, the entire scene dominated by a busy water front and three big saw mills running night and day.

Social Activities

Social activities included dancing parties, lodge meetings, church gatherings, picnics and barbecues, lyceum courses and musicals, amateur plays and a professional stock company for a week stand now and then in the Star "Opera House" (now the Manistique Garage) which was also the center for "Salvation Army" revival meetings, village caucuses, political rallies and other community activities. There were no movies, radios, phonographs, electric lights, water works, airplanes, concrete roads or automobiles. Young people walked up to see the furnace casting, or to the depot to see the train come in, and down to the dock when the boats came in, and everybody went walking or buggy riding Sunday afternoons.

The only means of travel for long distances was by railroad or boat, and horse and buggy for short trips in the country or to neighboring towns, but the bulk of local travel was on foot, and the vast majority of the people wouldn't get more than 5 or 10 miles from town in a year, and then—along came the bicycle.

It will readily be seen how perfectly the bicycle fitted into the picture and what a logical thing the bicycle craze was.

When 90 per cent of people's locomotion and movement was limited to the short distances they could travel on their own legs, and all at once you multiply those distances 10 fold with the same leg power by giving them an inexpensive machine which can travel faster than a horse, is it any wonder that everybody went bicycle crazy?

Not A Passing Fad

And it wasn't a passing fad either, because there are more bicycles today than there were at the height of the craze.

The original bicycle was a high wheel 48, 54 or even 60" affair with a little wheel behind. Power and steering were applied through the front wheel, the little wheel being simply a trailer for balancing. The height of the bicycle was determined by the length of the rider's legs.

It was hard to mount, and perched high in the air one took terrific tumbles learning to ride it, and for obvious reasons women, (in those days anyhow), couldn't ride them at all.

The high wheel bicycle gave way to the "safety" bicycle which was simply someone's bright idea of making both wheels the same size, mounting the seat on a frame (truss) between them, and applying the power to the rear wheel through a chain and geared up sprocket. Then with the invention of a drop frame for the women and pneumatic tires, the thing was complete, and everybody soon had "wheels" (in their heads if not on the ground).

Dress A Problem

A leading topic of conversation where the ladies gathered was the question of proper ladies' dress for bicycle riding. It was improper for a girl to show her "limb" above the ankle. In fact, any article of women's wear which even suggested that women possessed such appendages as "legs" was frowned upon, and bicycle costumes posed as great a problem as the bathing suit did at first, (which latter now presents no problem at all). Those were the "Gibson Girl" days of puffed sleeves, skirt waists, sailor hats and long skirts, and many different styles of "bloomers" and "divided skirts" were designed in an effort to solve the problem.

Well known bicycles were the Columbia, Rambler, Stearns, Eagle, Thistle, Cleveland, Lovell Diamond, and the English Humber and Raleigh. The Columbia cost $150.00 and the "Crescent," the cheapest wheel on the market, sold for $50.00. Manufacturers kept professional racing teams on

AT TRAIL'S END — The Manistique-Indian Lake bicycle path ended near the present site of Arrowhead Inn where a dance pavilion and a refreshment stand, known as the "beehive," did a lively business during the summer months of the nineties. The grassy area in front of the dance pavilion is the exact site of a Catholic mission church, built around 1835 by Bishop Frederick Baraga. (Photo reproductions by Linderoth)

BICYCLE PATH — During the height of the "bicycle craze" in Manistique in the nineties, Andrew Ekstrom constructed a bicycle path, shown above, through the woods to Indian Lake. The path, surfaced with crushed limestone, left present M-94 north of Indian River and came out of the timber at the present site of Arrowhead Inn at Indian Lake. Traces of the old trail, abandoned half a century ago, may still be found.

the circuits, and the names of A. A. Zimmerman, Walter Sanger, Tom Cooper, Eddie Bald, et al, were household words. Charley Murphy rode a sensational mile in 59 seconds paced by an engine and caboose with a wooden shield built to form a windbreak.

Racing Popular

There was great popular interest in racing both national and local. Amateur races were held on Memorial Day, 4th of July, Labor Day and at specially promoted race meets. Manistique "scorchers" won most of the prizes in meets at the Soo, Escanaba, Marquette, and other towns, and cleaned up regularly on visiting riders at local meets.

Carl Ekstrom, Norm Graham, Gust Ekstrom and the writer were the "Big 4" in Manistique, with Carl, Norm and myself always placed on "scratch" in handicap races. Carl and I once went to the Soo and took every first and second prize on the list. In fact, we agreed in advance which races Carl was to win, and which ones I was to win, each agreeing to "pace" the winner until the sprint at the end. Prizes at amateur meets were trophies—no cash. My winnings among other things were a Winchester repeating rifle, a watch, a pair of French marine glasses and a silver flask, which latter two items I still have.

Carl Klagstad, a very speedy rider, formerly of Manistique competed in the Elkin Road Race and track meets in Chicago. "Century Clubs" were formed by riders who had ridden 100 miles in a day.

Some of the early enthusiasts in Manistique were D. G. Currie, (agent for the Thistle), E. N. Orr (who sold Columbias), A. S. Putnam, George E. Holbein, J. W. Whistler, C. R. Orr, Andrew, Gust, Carl and Axel Ekstrom, Carl Gunnarson, Norm and Arthur Graham, V. I. Hixson, W. S. Crowe, C. M. Drevdahl, John Hackenbrach, W. B. Thomas, Harry Adams, Carl Thorberg, et al.

Club Formed

Carl Ekstrom's mount was a Columbia, and later a special 15 pound "World" racer. The "Thistle" was a specialized light weight racing bicycle. The writer purchased a 14 pound Thistle in 1894 for $110.00, rode it two years during which I won approximately $500.00 worth of prizes, and then sold it to Dan Kimball of Grand Rapids for $80.00. In 1895 I rode this bicycle from Green Bay to Milwaukee via Oshkosh — 145 miles over country roads in 14 hours. Carl Klagstad, who weighed 160 pounds, had a special Thistle racer which only weighed 12 pounds. Imagine loading a modern automobile touring car with about 25 tons, and expecting it to "carry on" at full speed.

A club was formed and Andrew Ekstrom built a bicycle path through the woods to a dancing pavilion and a "Beehive" refreshment stand on the point across from the present Arrowhead Inn, both extremely popular.

There are over five times as many bicycles in use today as there were during the "craze." Old U. S.-2 which the county proposes to rebuild from Manistique to Indian Lake State Park and beyond is crowded with kids going to the park on bicycles in summer and with auto travel at all times. They pose a problem to the auto driver as they do not realize the danger in riding a bicycle or even walking on the highway, especially at night, and I think it would be a fine idea for the county, when they rebuild this road, to also construct a bicycle path from the city limits to the park—a distance of less than three miles, and the cost would be only nominal.

Would You Like To Be An Expert In Baby Photography? Well, Here's How

Your baby in pictures is such an important part of family life that he deserves frequent use of your very best snapshotting skills.

To do justice to baby, you have to keep the camera busy, especially in the first two years. They change so rapidly that you can't let much time pass without taking pictures or you will miss some of the things you'd like most to remember.

Pictures of baby propped up against a pillow or in the corner of a chair are all right once in awhile, but if the pose is repeated too often the picture record is going to be one of how baby looked when having his picture taken at different ages.

Make your baby pictures a record of the things baby does. Each newly acquired skill is worth a snapshot that's fun to have now and wonderful for remembering in the years to come. Baby eating, bathing, crawling, laughing, crying, and playing all make good pictures. When he's very young he's naturally dependent so you can very locally work mother or another adult into the picture. As he grows older, and does more things for himself, he'll star more often in a solo role.

Use Photoflash

The best way to take baby pictures indoors is with photoflash since practically all modern cameras, even the most simple ones, are equipped for flash attachments. This means that you can shoot anytime of day, any place in the house, and on the spur of the moment. As an extra advantage, the speed of flash is fast enough to stop any normal movement. Thus, if baby suddenly waves at you, the hand will be "stopped" in midair, not blurred. Baby isn't tired by waiting for you to set up lights, and you aren't running the risk of missing the picture when it's happening. Babies are given to many moods, and they change rapidly, whether you're ready or not.

Carriages, play pens, blankets on the lawn are familiar settings for outdoor picture taking. On the whole you proceed just as you would for any outdoor snapshotting, but it is a good idea to give special attention to the angle from which you are shooting and the distance. Baby is a rather small subject and it is easy to lose him in a maze of background. With a close-up attachment, you can move in to within 42 inches of the baby with even the simplest camera. Otherwise, just move in as close as your camera permits. Then if the baby seems too small, you can have your photofinisher enlarge just that part of the picture.

QUESTION: What are your plans for your vacation?

Mrs. Kemp Sabourin, housewife, 501 1st Ave. S.: "I just had one. I went home to Washington, D. C. It was a month. I used to live there and I went home to visit my parents and relatives and all. I saw the cherry blossoms while I was there. And I might add the weather was in the 80's and it wasn't here. I came back and it was snowing."

Phyllis Thivierge, works at Rialto in Gladstone, 1824 Dakota Ave., Gladstone: "Most of my time is taken up. As far as working I have to work at nights. I'm still in school so I have the whole summer. I'm a Senior Girl Scout and I usually ask to go to Bunker Hill Day Camp at Gladstone where I'm a counselor. We teach the smaller children what we know and what we learned when we went there. The kids are young, the oldest ones are 9 so it's quite easy to show them what to do."

W. G. Sullivan, C&NW train dispatcher, 708 S. 11th St.: "Gee, I don't know if I'm ever going to get a vacation or not, it's so far off. I don't have any vacation now until January. If I did have one I'd go out to California. I've got two children living out there in Palo Alto and I and my wife go out there every year for a month or two months."

Mrs. Clem Tordeur, housewife, 1715 8th Ave. S.: "I've had my vacation, I think. Around Christmas time I went to Lansing and a good time. Went out to 'Holiday On Ice' and different parties. I visited my daughter for two weeks down there. That alone is a nice vacation. I went to Minneapolis at Easter time and visited relatives and on to Duluth and visited a sister there. So I think I would have any vacation this summer. Oh, we might take a few short trips occasionally, up in the Copper Country."

Queen Elizabeth II's ancestry has been traced back to Woden, a 4th century Germanic tribal king, later deified as Odin, for whom Wednesday is named.

presents an adult point of view; a low camera position shows things the way baby sees them. Don't be afraid to get down on your knees, if necessary. Looking down on baby tends to minimize him and that's certainly the last thing you want to do.

When it comes to background, indoors or out, simplicity is the best rule. So, look behind the baby as well as at him when composing your picture. That way you can avoid distracting elements which would take attention from your important subject. If circumstances make this difficult, create a simple background by draping a blanket or sheet over the edge of a table or the back of a chair.

Many times two people are better than one when baby pictures are being made. You need one to take the picture, the other to amuse and entertain the subject. The second person can make noises to attract baby's smile in the direction of the camera or present a favorite toy at the appropriate time to bring a happy, expectant expression.

A trick you might borrow from professional photographers is giving baby a piece of stick cellophane tape. This almost inevitably reproduces an interested study of fingers which immediately become entangled, and the result is a good picture.

Mother should really be the family's official baby photographer. If she keeps a flash camera handy all the time, she can snap pictures when they happen rather than have to say, when baby's activities are priceless, "Gee, I wish I'd had my camera handy."

Escanaba Soldier Tells Of Dire Need For Blood In Korean War

The importance of the Red Cross blood program to soldiers in Korea is vividly described by Pvt. Reynold Brandt in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Brandt, of Escanaba. Pvt. Brandt is serving with a medical company in Korea.

He related an incident that occurred in his area recently when a wounded soldier was flown to the hospital base in a helicopter. "As soon as the helicopter landed, the wounded soldier was rushed directly to surgery on a stretcher. They immediately gave him blood. It was impossible to give him an anesthetic because of the severe loss of blood."

Need Is Urgent

"At 9 p. m., we brought in a supply of blood and at 1 a. m., we had to get some more. We just had gotten back to sleep when at 4 a. m., we had to get more blood."

"When the Red Cross says, 'Save a Life, Give Blood,' the average person says to himself, 'Well, maybe I will some day.' But if they could spend 10 minutes here when a patient is brought in half dead from loss of blood and see him recover to normal health, they certainly would give blood sooner."

Why is the blood donated to the Michigan Department of Health blood procurement program made into plasma and fractions? Why isn't it kept as whole blood?

PVT. REYNOLD BRANDT

These are questions asked here recently, and these are the answers from the Michigan Department of Health:

Whole blood can be stored only 21 days; plasma can be stored two years. Blood must be typed and cross-matched in order to select the proper blood for each patient; plasma is ready for immediate use without testing.

Plasma and fractions make the blood go farther. Four pints of whole blood will treat only four people. The same amount separated into plasma and resuspended cells will benefit eight people. Four could receive resuspended red cells for the treatment of anemia, and four more could be given plasma.

Help More People

When the four pints of blood are fractionated, 29 people could benefit. Four could receive resuspended cells; twelve could be treated with antihemophilic globulin to reduce hemorrhage; twelve children could be given immune serum globulin for the prevention or modification of measles; and five children or one adult could receive normal serum albumin for the treatment of kidney or liver diseases. In other words, this processing separates the blood into the specific parts needed to treat different conditions.

The Michigan Department of Health emphasized that the plasma and fractions program does not eliminate the need for whole blood; there is a constant demand for this, but because of its short period of usefulness, the need is best met through local organizations.

The Michigan Department of Health will collect blood in Delta county June 1 to 4. All blood collected at this time will be processed into plasma and fractions for the exclusive use of residents of this county.

Prince Charles Will See 'Mummy' Crowned Queen

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

NEA Staff Correspondent

LONDON —(NEA)—The most famous little boy in the world, 4½-year-old Prince Charles, is to see his "Mummy" crowned Queen of England. But his baby sister, Princess Anne, will stay at home.

Prince Charles' presence for a short period in the Abbey will be the result of a year's testing period. Right from the beginning Elizabeth had hoped that this could be managed, although officials doubted the advisability.

But during the last year, people who have seen the young prince in public have remarked on his unusually good behavior and perfect poise. He held an unofficial salute for three minutes recently from the balcony at Buckingham Palace during the marching past of the Grenadier Guards.

He remained serious and did not fidget while he watched his mother present the standards to the Household Cavalry at Windsor, holding his young Aunt Margaret's hand.

He has learned to shake hands solemnly with officials, and copies the Queen's every gesture. Recently, when he was introduced to the wife of a Commonwealth official, he is reported to have said: "Surely we have met before. I never forget a face."

And he is learning the royal lessons of discipline and punctuality. Asked by a member of the staff why he was sitting in front of the clock in the drawing room at Royal Lodge, Windsor, he replied: "I am going to visit Granny at half-past ten, but not a moment before."

For the past few months his mother has been explaining to him the Coronation service in

Grant Delta $13,325 To Help Defray Polio Cost

A March of Dimes check for $13,325 has been received by the Delta County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to help provide care for polio patients of this county. It was announced today by Leslie W. Olson, Delta Chapter chairman.

When March of Dimes funds are raised each year half of the total amount remains with the local chapter and half is sent to National Headquarters to finance scientific research, professional and public education and to provide emergency aid such as that just received, Olson explained.

The rising tide of polio, although scientific research is slowly finding ways of controlling the disease, leaves ever-increasing burdens on the chapters of the National Foundation. Delta county last year with 58 cases, highest of any Upper Peninsula county, was hard hit.

Resources Exhausted

Three of the 58 cases are still in St. Luke's Hospital at Marquette and other cases go from simple words, so that he will understand the meaning of the solemn occasion.

"Well-informed people" think young Charles will appear at the moment of "the putting on of the Crown" which is heralded by a sounding of the trumpets and of the great guns in the Tower of London, accompanied by loud and repeated shouts within the Abbey of "God Save the Queen."

It is possible that, following or preceding his father, he too will pay homage to the Queen.

In contrast to Charles, little Anne is a regular tom-boy, brimming over with spirit.

periodically for treatments, adjustments, and braces.

"In Delta county we have a clear example of how a polio outbreak can quickly exhaust the resources of a chapter," Olson reported. "In the 1953 March of Dimes we raised $11,913.73, the largest amount in our history, yet by March 15 of this year it was all gone and we had to appeal for emergency aid from National Headquarters."

To May 20 Delta county had bills from St. Luke's Hospital totaling $12,921.87. The latest emergency aid grant was made to aid in defraying these costs and to meet anticipated needs of the next 60 days.

Service To Continue

Because of the excellent response to the Delta County March of Dimes campaign earlier this year, headed by Atty. John H. Root of Escanaba, funds are available to continue the program of service this year.

There will be continuing expenditures for the 1952 polio cases. Because of the emergency created by last year's epidemic, the National Foundation last fall granted $2,500 to aid in defraying the costs of treatment.

The Delta County Chapter this year will send five children, all polio cases, to Bay Cliff Health Camp for six weeks, where they will continue to receive physical therapy treatments. The cost to the Chapter will be $157.50 per child.

In addition the Chapter has appropriated $1,500 from its funds to Camp Harstad to finance the summer camp for crippled children.

There have been two cases of polio in the Upper Peninsula so far this year, one in Marquette and one in Ironwood. Last year to this date there were none

Annual Parish Meeting Will Be Held Sunday

The Rev. Charles F. Wolfe of Marquette, district superintendent, will be the speaker at the annual congregational meetings of the First Methodist Church of Escanaba and the Bark River Methodist Church Sunday.

The First Methodist Church and Sunday School will worship together at 10 a. m. The Junior and Senior Chorus will sing at this service.

The annual business meeting of the congregation will follow the service and will open at 11 a. m.

The district superintendent will speak at the Bark River Church at 3 p. m. and will conduct the annual business meeting there at 4 p. m. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Wilson Couple Will Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wojakowski, widely known residents of the Wilson community, whose marriage took place in Poland May 25, 1903, are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary Saturday at the Polish National Catholic Church in Harris.

The festivities of the day will open with a service at 9 a. m. which will be conducted by the Rev. Joseph Blyn of Stevens Point, Wis.

Attending the couple as they repeat their vows will be their seven children and fourteen grandchildren who will form an honorary escort to the altar, and Mrs. George Maniowiczak and Joseph Piki of Wilson who will serve as matron of honor and best man. Two of the grandchildren, Rosemary Wojakowski and Charles Eret Jr., will have the roles of flower girl and ring bearer.

Following the service a dinner will be served 90 guests in the church hall and the observance will close with a golden wedding dance at the 47 Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Wojakowski came to this country from Poland in 1919 and have lived in the Wilson the past 35 years. Their children are Mrs. Alphonse Janchenko of Escanaba, John, Mrs. Edward Giles, Charles Eret and Mrs. Joseph Slechta of Chicago.

Personals

Mrs. Arvid Isaacson, 1404 1/2 Ludington St., left today for Marquette where she will visit with her mother, Mrs. H. J. Rasmussen, who is in ill health.

Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Dewar and Tommie Gruen of Long Beach, Calif., have arrived here to spend the summer months with members of their family.

Arriving to spend the holiday weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Perket, 920 Lake Shore Drive, are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rheame, Mr. and Mrs. John Weillip, Mrs. John Rheame and daughters Pat and Rita and son Richard, and Dr. and Mrs. George Dorn and son Michael and daughter Michele, all of Milwaukee; and Mr. and Mrs. Bond Perket, Marquette.

Miss Lois Lemke arrived tonight from Milwaukee to spend a week's vacation and to attend the double silver wedding anniversary Sunday of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Lemke, 1513 2nd Ave. S., and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ottensman, 210 N. 14th St.

Entertainment Is Arranged For Club Fish Fry Tonight

Special entertainment will follow the customary Fish Fry Frolie at the Escanaba Golf and Country Club this evening. Featuring the program will be several interesting golf films which will be shown by Eddie Ernst, Country Club pro. The entertainment is scheduled for 10 p. m. The committee for the evening includes Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Bathke, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Council and Mrs. C. W. Bissell.

HONORED AT DINNER—Miss Margaret Fitzsimmons, member of the teaching staff of the Jefferson School, who is retiring at the close of the school year in June, was honored at a dinner party at the Dells Supper Club given by teachers of the Escanaba public school system. Miss Fitzsimmons is concluding her professional career as teacher of the Jefferson first grade. (Daily Press Photo)

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford
Former Governor of New Mexico

XXI
Always the spotlight of public interest follows Queen Elizabeth, exploring her most private and personal moments in a way which few of her subjects would stand.

It is right, with the Constitution formed as it is, that Royal Grants should be discussed by the Parliament which passes them. But it cannot be pleasant to have your income, needs, and expenses attacked by the House of Commons and the result of their debate published all over the world.

I well remember the embarrassed air which hung over Buckingham Palace while the allowances paid yearly to Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip were being debated.

From the age of 11 the Princess received a yearly income of 6000 pounds—granted her out of the King's Civil List of 410,000 pounds.

At 21 this income was raised to 15,000 pounds annually, and at the time of her marriage to 30,000 pounds with extra grants for the upkeep of Clarence House.

To those who think these figures large I would point out what inflated expenses Royalty have to bear. Princess Elizabeth had to furnish her house literally "fit for a king" to live in.

It would not have been in the country's interests for the Heiress Presumptive to live in a suburban bungalow.

Large House Staff
Just as, when she went abroad, the Princess was our No. 1 Ambassador, so, at home, hers was the home which typified the country.

To maintain it she had to employ a staff far larger than her private tastes dictated. She had to have a Comptroller to handle the complex problems of her household and manage her finances; a secretary to handle the huge mail which came to her daily and deal with her appointments and those callers who needed her assistance; there were the kitchen, the backstairs staff needed to support the house in the style which Parliament felt would make it a credit to the country, and there were pensioners grown old in Royal service who had to be provided for in their retirement.

Another expense was the major outlay of entertaining foreign dignitaries who visit the country and cannot be entertained by a sandwich and a cup of tea. They must be met with the pomp and ceremony suitable to their rank.

Banquets and garden parties sometimes cost the King as much as 3000 pounds each. All this had to come out of his grant. And, similarly, the Princess's smaller-scale entertaining came out of hers.

This they accepted as part of their duty. But it could not be pleasant for them to have to face, on the top of that burden, criticism of the monies they are allowed, so little of which remains for their private needs.

Interest of Public
No girl in love and yet not publicly joined by engagement to the man she loves welcomes prying into her private feelings.

Yet that is what Princess Elizabeth had to put up with all through that long, trying time before she and Prince Philip could face the world as future man and wife.

Although that sense of duty I have stressed so often in these pages is one which made her destiny of the highest importance in the Queen's life, do not think that public curiosity did not cost her dear.

I saw her shaken by the sometimes coarse but no doubt kindly meant interest in her affairs taken by some of the public she saw on her day's duty.

I felt the strain she was under, watched the way her eyes would sometimes stray to Prince Philip, knowing that in her heart she must be saying, "Why can't I marry the man I love? Why must there be this pitiless delay?"

It does not require great depths of imagination to visualize the struggle which must have taken place inside her; the desire of every girl in love to be with the man she loves, conditioned by her training which taught her that Royalty are not as other people—not in any superior way, but only in the disciplined position imposed on them.

How often she must have longed to throw it all up, to leave the court which turned her private life into a public discussion and run away.

Golden Wedding Celebrated By Albert Gleisners

Over 125 relatives and friends gathered last evening at Central Methodist Church to assist Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gleisner of 321 S. 13th St. celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

The program, opening with greetings by Mrs. Earl Haddy, president of the W. S. C. S. and prayer by the Rev. Karl J. Hammar, included greetings by Pauline Boisseneau; two duets, one in Swedish dialect, by Mrs. John Holland and Mrs. Alex Cathcart; a reading by Mrs. Earl Koenig; a Swedish duet by Ed Boisseneau and Ed Olson; a duet, "I Love You Truly," by the honor couple's twin daughters, Mrs. Ed Boisseneau and Mrs. Ed Olson; and a short talk by Mr. Hammar who extended congratulations.

The program was followed by a social hour during which refreshments were served. Spring flowers were arranged with the golden wedding cake as the central note of the decorative theme. Mrs. Boisseneau and Mrs. Olson poured.

Guests from out-of-town included Mrs. Albert Anderson and Andrew Nelbair of Menominee who were the bridal attendants at the wedding in 1903. Mrs. Ellen Johnson and Andrew Johnson, also of Menominee, Mrs. Earl Koenig of Marinette and Mrs. Waldemar Flink and Mrs. Herman Nelson of Wells, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Gleisner were presented with many beautiful gifts in remembrance of the golden wedding day and they also received numerous cards and other messages of congratulation.

Michigan 1954 Auto Tags Azure And Gold With Slogan Added

LANSING (P) — Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary announced Thursday that he had picked the colors azure and gold for the 1954 Michigan auto license plates.

The plates will also carry the newly-selected slogan "Water Wonderland" to promote Michigan's tourist attractions.

For many years, Michigan plates have been white and black with the colors of the figures and background alternated annually.

"While being extremely legible and durable, the constant repetition has in effect deemphasized the annual re-registration change," Cleary said, "and has begun to invite counterfeiting by the simple expedient of altering dates on plates of former years."

Quit UN If Red China Is Admitted, Leading U. S. Senators Advise

WASHINGTON (P) — Senators who hold government purse strings have indicated plainly they believe the United States should quit the United Nations if Red China is admitted.

The Senate Appropriations Committee voted late Wednesday to shut off American contributions to the U. N. if Communist China ever takes a seat on the U. N. Security Council.

Under the U. N. charter, China is entitled to a permanent seat on the Security Council. Nationalist China now occupies it.

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) said only three of the group's 23 members opposed the ban which was sponsored by Sen. Dirksen (R-ILL). Bridges indicated he thought the Senate would uphold the provision.

Hospital Planned

CHARLEVOIX (P) — Charlevoix Hospital board of directors has advertised for bids for the new 44-bed, $600,000 hospital to be constructed on a site overlooking Lake Michigan.

Mobile X-Ray Units Coming

The mobile X-ray unit of the Michigan State Health Department will be in Gladstone two days the early part of June for the convenience and benefit of residents of this city.

It will again be located at the Siebert Hardware. On Friday, June 5, it will be here from 1 to 8 p. m., and on Monday, June 8, it will be here from 10 to 5 p. m.

All persons 15 years of age or over may have their chests X-rayed free. All adults and all children who react to tuberculin should be X-rayed at least once a year.

Most persons X-rayed received a card within a few weeks after advising them their chest is normal. If the X-ray shows something might be wrong a report will be sent to the person's doctor and to the person advising him to contact his physician. The doctor will advise what the X-ray shows and what should be done to determine if something is wrong. Study may show nothing at all . . . or tuberculosis . . . or something else. If any kind of trouble is present, finding it early may prevent it from becoming serious.

Briefly Told

Church Board—The Board of Administration of the First Lutheran church meets Monday evening at 7:30 at the church.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our beloved daughter and sister, Marilyn, who passed away five years ago, May 30, 1948. Gone is the face we loved so dear.

Silent is the voice we loved to hear. Too far away for sight or speech. But not too far for thought to reach.

Sweet to remember her who once was here. And who, though absent, is just as dear.

Sadly missed by,
Mrs. Alvina Willette and family

Order For Police Radio Cancelled

Cancellation of an order for a two-day police radio system was voted by City Council at an adjourned meeting Wednesday night.

Reason given for the move was delay in receipt of the equipment, ordered several months ago.

No action was taken on granting paid holidays to hourly city employees, as requested several weeks ago by Local 1196, Union of State, County and Municipal Employees. The matter was brought to the city board's attention by Council A. W. Heitman and Walter Burns, members of the council's labor committee.

The committee reported that a compromise had been effected with the union which would provide for three instead of six paid yearly holidays.

Alex Robertson, city clerk, reported that a search of city records back through 1949 had failed to reveal any prior council action specifying amount of public liability insurance which taxicab operators must carry. He was instructed to carry the search beyond 1949.

The insurance question developed at a session of the council Monday night when an application for a second taxi service in the community was presented by Fred Homer. Council members learned at that time that a taxi service currently operating here carried only $5,000-$10,000 public liability, an amount which councilmen believed was less than specified by a previous council.

Orson Livermore, acting city manager, reported that a representative of the Lakehead Pipeline Company would meet with the council in the near future to discuss the installation of a crude oil pipeline across Indian River.

The city board two weeks ago directed that a letter be sent the company objecting to proposed crossing of the river above In-take Dam where the city gets its water supply.

Manistique Budget Set At $219,820 At Meeting Thursday

A budget of $219,820, of which $95,970 will come from taxation, was approved by Manistique City Council at an adjourned meeting Wednesday night.

In approving the figures councilmen trimmed several thousand from preliminary estimates prepared several weeks by Orson Livermore and W. A. Moreau, acting and assistant acting city managers respectively.

Date for public hearing on the budget was set for 7:30 Monday evening, June 8, at City Hall.

Based on the tax-raised portion of the budget and the city's assessed valuation as equalized last week by the Board of Supervisors, the city tax rate will be 18 mills. This rate is a tentative figure, however, and has not yet been officially confirmed by the council.

Anticipated non-tax revenue during the 1953-54 fiscal year is $123,850.

MEMORIAL DAY
Memorial Day is here, and once again we offer tribute to our soldier dead, And there'll be those who say 'tis all in vain, For peace is lost, and mankind still is led Down War's grim pathway, brutalized and red. But yet to those who died a debt we owe That centuries of tribute cannot pay... Who stood a wall against a surging foe And, dying there, upon our altars lay The high, rich gifts of Freedom's shining way.

Tentative 4th Plans Approved

A full day of activity is included in tentative plans for Manistique's Fourth of July celebration. It is announced by the American Legion committee in charge.

Included will be a general parade, a children's parade, street sports, boxing show, fireworks display, and baseball and softball games.

The children's parade is again expected to be a highlight of the celebration.

A drive to collect funds to finance the event will be launched immediately by a committee from the Legion Auxiliary, headed by Mrs. George Huber.

In order to expand the program, various township supervisors are being requested to cooperate by helping to arrange for township floats and participation of township children in the children's parade.

Subcommittee chairman to supervise various Fourth activities will be announced later.

Members of the Legion committee in charge of the celebration are Harvey Quick, Emory Barnes, John F. Wood and Clifford Cool.

The committee reported that collections for the 1952 celebration totaled $1,190.50 and disbursements amounted to $1,141.19.

$778.17 Awarded In Prizes To Teams In Central Pin League

A total of $778.17 has been awarded as prizes in the City Central Bowling League at the Brault alleys, it is reported by Bruce Rossier, league treasurer.

Prize money has been awarded as follows:

Royal Crowns, $149.37; Pines, $127.49; Roriks, $120.10; Braults, $114.33; Nicks, $100.45; Bosch, $93.04; Manistique Tool, $39.24; Garden Corners, $34.15.

First half trophy was won by Nicks which also copped the grand championship cup for the 1952-53 season by defeating Yorks, second half winners, in the season's play-off.

State Approves Sale Of Notes

Permission to borrow $100,000 and issue notes therefore has been granted the Schoolcraft County Road Commission by the Municipal Finance Commission, it was reported yesterday by William J. Sheahan, county attorney.

Funds derived from the sale of notes will be used to match federal grants in carrying out a broad program of primary county road construction.

Sale of notes is being advertised immediately, an bids will be opened by the road commission at a meeting scheduled for 2 p. m. June 15.

Notes will be issued for a five-year period in units suitable to the successful bidder.

In addition to the $200,000 which will be made available by the sale of notes and matching federal grants, the road board already has $50,000 segregated for primary road construction. This includes $25,000 appropriated by the board and $25,000 from the federal government.

Local Knights To Be Guests Monday Night At Fayette

Members of the Manistique Council, Knights of Columbus, will be guests at a whitefish "feed" Monday evening at the Fayette hall, it is announced. The event is being put on by Knights in the Fayette and Fairport area, with Leslie DeVet, of Fayette, in charge.

The meal is for members only. Local Knights planning to attend are requested to meet at the K-C hall, River St., at 7 p. m. Rides will be provided for those lacking transportation.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved son, Frank Hansen, Jr., who was taken from our family by death on May 29, 1950.

He little thought when leaving home He would return no more.

That he in death so soon would sleep, And leave us here to mourn.

We do not know what pain he bore, We did not see him die.

We only know he passed away, And could not say goodbye.

Badly missed by his Mother, Father, Sisters and Brothers.

High School Students Are Also Teachers

VERNON, Tex. (AP)—You can teach your own class at Vernon High School—if you want to be a teacher. School officials figure the best way to learn to teach is to go into the classroom and do it. Twenty junior and senior students teach one class a day.

Student teachers are supervised by regular teachers while conducting classes. Lessons are carefully prepared so the student instructor won't be "trapped" by a pupil.

Mrs. Russell says other pupils can't mind having fellow students teach them. Teenager Ken Robinson, known to his pupils as "Mr. Robinson," was surprised last Christmas when virtually every member of his eighth grade English class brought him a present.

Peg Legs Developed For Rice Paddy Work

TOKYO (AP)—The American-Korean foundation has developed a new type of artificial legs which will permit a war-maimed Korean soldier to work in the rice fields.

Dr. Howard A. Rusk, head of the private organization's six-member mission, said the peg leg type had been equipped with a metal rocker at the bottom which will enable a worker to lift his foot from the mud more readily.

Eskymos Defeat Gladstone 4-0 For 28th Straight Win

The Escanaba Eskymos completed their third straight undefeated baseball season here yesterday by blanking the Gladstone Braves 4-0 for their eighth win of the season and their 23th in succession since 1950. It was the final game of the 1953 season for both clubs.

Southpaw hurler Fred Boddy ended his high school twirling career on a brilliant note, setting the Braves down on two singles, fanning 16 and issuing no walks.

Boddy was never in serious trouble and showed complete mastery over the Braves. He fanned 12 straight batters from the second to the sixth inning.

Brilliant Record

The Eskymo hurler, rated the No. 1 prep pitcher in the Upper Peninsula this year, raised his strikeout total to 101 in the 54 innings he has toiled on the Escanaba mound. While posting all eight wins (five by shutouts) he allowed only 19 hits and 13 walks. Opponents were able to score only five runs against the Eskymos who crossed the plate with 39 tallies for the season.

Eskymo batters let loose with a seven-hit attack off Gladstone's Tod Butler, who fanned five and walked four going the distance for the Braves.

Coach Jim Rouman's Eskymos put across all their runs in the first inning. Jim Beck started the splurge with a single after Wes Hoes had fanned. Paul Davidson walked and Tippy Larmay lined a single to center to score Beck.

Season's Scores

Boddy singled to drive home Davidson and Larmay scored on John Peterson's blooper to second base. Charlie Bellefeuille drove in the fourth Escanaba run with a single to center.

The two Gladstone hits off Boddy were collected by Butler, the pitcher, and Duane Peterson, catcher. The first, in the first inning, skirted the third base foul line, the second sailed over first base.

Following is the game-by-game record of Escanaba's third straight unbeaten season:

Stephenson (5-0), Gladstone (1-0), Ishpeming (4-0), St. Joe (5-2), Stephenson (8-1), Marquette (4-0), Ishpeming (8-2) and Gladstone (4-0).

Fayette And Garden Will Meet Sunday

GARDEN — The Garden baseball club will be host to the Fayette nine this coming Sunday in an effort to hand the point team its first defeat. The local team has a .500 average so far this year, winning by a 12 to 1 margin from Cooks and being defeated by Manistique 4 to 1 in the season's opener. Fayette holds victories over Trenary and Rapid River. Wayne VanRensselaer has pitched for both Fayette victories and will be on the mound again Sunday. Garden's moundman will be either Eddie Paul or Jack Moran.

Ward Gains Semi-Finals In British Tournament

HOYLAK, England (AP)—Hervie Ward of Atlanta moved into the semi-final round in defense of his British amateur golf championship today when he halloped 48-year-old Cyril Windrow of England, 5 and 4, in a quarter-final match.

Ward, the only American left in the tournament, won almost as he pleased, leading six up at the turn.

Joe Carr, the Irish Walker Cup star who is expected to meet Ward in Saturday's final, also entered the semi-final, beating Joe Lambie of Scotland, one up.

Although the American showing in the British amateur this year has been the poorest of the post-war period, Ward's performance against an outclassed opponent established him as a strong favorite to retain his title. For the

was on with a single, stretches to reach first after Escanaba pitcher Fred Boddy had whiffed and whipped the ball to first baseman Paul Davidson who is shown making the tag on Butler's outstretched leg.

Third Stock Car Race Program Is Set Sunday

Stock car racing makes its third straight weekend appearance at the State Fair track Sunday afternoon with the time trials moved up to 1:30. First of the heat races will get under way at 2:30.

Interest in Escanaba's stock car program is growing steadily among fans and drivers. Two more local drivers are expected among the field Sunday and three old-timers with years of racing experience are expected to join the fold.

Connie Erickson, driver of Car No. 15 who missed last Sunday's affair, and Joe Gayan, appearing in Escanaba for the first time this year, will be joined by another entry from the Iron Mountain-Kingsford area.

Pieropon Is Leader — John Pieropon of Spalding, who has won his share of the first two weeks prize money, reports his Car No. 33 in top shape. He'll be shooting to break the time trial record for the new quarter-mile oval at the fairgrounds.

Both Pieropon and Leon Fraker of Kingsford, top money winner to date, are running close in the competition and the two are expected to battle it out for the fastest time trial and to compete in the heat and final races.

Some of the new drivers showing well in early races are Lawrence and Lloyd Brown of Manistique, Julius Larson of Marquette and Ted Honkala, an experienced driver from Ishpeming. Also a money winner in his first time out was Alan Sanville, Escanaba, driving Car No. 100-A.

Awarded Wrist Watch — Honkala received a wrist watch last Sunday for displaying the most sportsmanlike act when he skillfully missed Cameron Luke's car that had rolled over on the first turn.

Leading in the race for points for the special feature races to be staged during State Fair week are Fraker, Pieropon, Hoppy Mott of Norway, Honkala and Lawrence Brown.

Drivers receive 10 points for attending the weekly races. The fastest time trial draws 10 points and other time race points down to one. Points for finishers in the other races are rated 10-8-6-4.

Favor Wolves In Golf Meet

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Michigan, the 1952 champion, was rated the team to beat as the Big Ten's 34th annual golf tournament opened today at Maple Bluff Country Club.

A par-cracking time was indicated for the two-day meet when Don Albert, sensational Purdue sophomore, snipped six strokes off the course's regulation 72 in a warmup Thursday.

Defending medalist Doug Koepcke of Wisconsin fired an even par.

The strongest individual title contenders in addition to Koepcke and Albert were Frank Card, who finished two strokes behind Koepcke last year; Mel Woolfing, former national caddy champion and Frank Vuarasci, all of Ohio State; Jack Leer of Indiana; Ed McCordell of Iowa; Art Hills of Michigan State; Don Cassidy of Illinois and Bob Hite of Minnesota.

Six players from each Big Ten school will play 36 holes today and the same number Saturday.

Bob Addis, outfielder for the Chicago Cubs, was an all-around athlete at Barborton, O., high school where he earned 11 letters in sports.

Don Veller, golf coach at Florida State U., is the former head grid mentor at the same institution. His grid teams compiled a record of 31 wins, 12 losses and one tie.

Illini Heavy Favorites In Big Ten Track Meet

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Favored Illinois, seeking its third successive title, will attempt to gain the upper hand today in twilight qualifying preliminaries of the outdoor Big Ten track championship.

Only Michigan, with the biggest squad entered of 32 men, is expected seriously to challenge Illinois' bid.

Michigan has posted best seasonal performances in six events and Illinois has topped four.

The Wolverines' best are by John Ross with 4:11.4 in the mile, Roland Nilsson with a 55-9½ shot put and a 174-3¾ discus heave. Milt Mead with a 6-8¾ high jump, John Carroll with a 48.1 in the 440, and a mile relay time of 3:16.2.

Illinois has scored "bests" with Willie Williams, .09.4 in the 100;

Little League Season Opens Saturday With Royce Park Twin Bill

At Royce Park
5—Rotary vs. St. Joe Boosters
6:30—Kiwanis vs. Lions

A twilight doubleheader at Royce Park on Saturday, starting at 5, will open the third year of the Escanaba Jaycee Little League baseball program.

Rotary takes on St. Joe Boosters in the opener and at 6:30 Kiwanis tackles the Lions.

A pair of lefthanders will oppose each other on the mound in the opener with Dwyane Bero on the hill for Rotary and Ray Peterson tossing for St. Joe.

At the tender age of 10, Bero, who won two and lost none last season, will be starting his third year of Little League ball while Peterson notched one of the two wins St. Joe was able to post last year.

In the nightcap another lefthander, the veteran Gene Sequin (6-0 last season), will start for Kiwanis while 10-year-old "Huckle" Andrews gets the nod for the Lions. Andrews won his only start last season.

With the season ready to start, league managers were polled for comments, as follows:

Frank Bourke, Kiwanis — We lost a lot of strength through graduation, but we have experienced players at nearly every position. We are particularly high on Larry Chenier at second base. He looks like a real comer. In the outfield we have Craig Petersen, Ted Kelker and Bob Clouse. Dick Stasewich will catch and, Gerry Seymour, Bob Dagenais and Jim Bourke will round out the infield.

Jim Fitzpatrick, Lions—We've got a young outfit, but we're going to be a surprise. Ronnie Greenwood is the only newcomer in our lineup, but he will bear watching. The rest of the infield packs a lot of lumber at the plate. Dave Andrews and Dick Arntzen are our only 12-year-olds, Matt Snyder is at second, with Cris Fitzpatrick behind the plate. In the outfield we have the two Nordin boys and Denny Hogan.

Elmer Walker, St. Joe — Look for more balance in the league this year. We think we have the best catcher in Cory Johnson, and if we get pitching we'll be strong through the middle. Ricky Erickson and John Wellman play well around second and Gerry Dupont covers center field. Bob DeGrand, Keith Gunderman and Bob Brien have improved and of course we are strong at third with Leroy Lancour. If we get pitching we'll give anyone a battle. Maybe this Tom Robinson will come through for us.

Lawrence Erickson, Rotary — With a veteran lineup we'll have to hustle to do as well as last year. Ronnie Eli is the only newcomer to start, but we have another Bourdeau-Dick who we expect to help our pitching. Jim Bourdeau will be at third, Marv Nault at Short, Dick Olson at second and Don Hansen at first. Ken Hamilton will catch with Eli, Tom Elegeert and Jack Lindquist in the outfield.

Cards Face Two Foes In Weekend Action

MANISTIQUE—The Manistique Cardinals will hit the road over the Memorial Day weekend to clash with two traditional and formidable baseball rivals.

Saturday the Cards invade Munising to take on the Pictured Rocks nine of the U. P. Semi-pro League. Munising is currently leading the league and is expected to offer rugged competition to the Manistique men.

The Cards and Munising were rivals for several years in the old Rainbow League.

Sunday the Cardinals go to Cooks to tackle their arch foe in the Bay de Noc loop.

The game at Cooks is expected to attract one of the largest crowds of the current season if the weather is right. Cooks hitters, who have been banging the ball all over the fields this spring, are expected to keep action sizzling for the Cards.

Dick Makinen, ace catcher for the Cards, has an injured hand and will be out of the weekend lineup. Manager Fred Lesica reported yesterday that he is handling the catching assignment to Jack Phillips who has been working in left field.

Phillips' slot in the field will be taken over by McNamara, Demars or Selling. The balance of the lineup will remain unchanged with Frederickson at third, Weber at short, Rhoads at second, Lesica at first, Brandstrom in centerfield and either Carlson or Adams, pitchers, holding down right gardens.

Both Adams and Carlson will get mound assignments in the weekend games, and Manager Lesica plans to space their work as carefully as possible, using one in the field while the other is on the hill. He was particularly pleased with Adams' 4-hit pitching against Rapid River last Sunday afternoon.

Iowa was a distant third with 12. Other point totals: Michigan 11, Illinois 10, Purdue 10, Northwestern 8, Wisconsin 7, Minnesota 3 and Ohio State 0.

Eli Glazer of Indiana accounted for the day's top upset, beating Norman Barnes of Iowa, the defending No. 1 singles champ, 6-2, 6-4.

Glazer meets Stan Drobac of Michigan State, last year's runner-up, in a featured match today. Drobac, topspeeded in singles, beat Northwestern's Don Bauble, 3-6, 6-4, 8-6.

Little Bigger League Opens, Schedule Set

Next week's schedule of games in the Escanaba Little Bigger League, which opens action with three games tomorrow afternoon and evening at Memorial Field, was posted today.

Opening games will be played at 3, 6 and 7:30. The Elks meet Insurance Association at 3, Delta Hardware faces Kiwanis in the middle game and AFL Unions takes on Paper Co. in the windup.

Mayor Robert E. LeMire and City Manager Art Aronson will take part in the opening night program at 6.

Saturday—A.F.L. vs. Kiwanis at Memorial at 10:00; Insurance Association vs. Paper Company at Memorial at 1 p. m., Delta Hardware vs. Elks at Memorial at 3 p. m.

Sunday—Eagles vs. St. Joe Boosters at Royce; FlatRock vs. Claimants at Docks; Birdseye vs. St. Thomas Oldtimers at Webster.

Merchants And Harnies Win In American League

The Merchants and Harnischfeger posted victories in American League softball action last night at Memorial Field.

The Merchants defeated Phil & Ev's 12-1 behind four-hit pitching by veteran Louie Kozitsky, who fanned seven batsmen.

Bobby Anderson's homer paced the Merchants' 12-hit attack off Tom Bryack who went the route for the losers.

Harnischfeger measured Paper Mill 8-5 with Les Kamine pitching and batting for the winners. Kamine picked up two of his team's hits off Tom Elegeert. Catcher Lowell LaPlant rapped a double and a triple for Harnischfeger and Dale Wood, Paper Mill catcher, was a heavy sticker for the losers.

Spartans, Indians Lead Big Ten Field

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Michigan State and Indiana were running even and 'way ahead of the field going into today's semifinals of the Big Ten tennis championships.

MSC, the pre-meet favorite, and the defending champion Hoosiers each qualified all six of their singles players and one double team in preliminary play Thursday. They were tied with 25 points.

Iowa was a distant third with 12. Other point totals: Michigan 11, Illinois 10, Purdue 10, Northwestern 8, Wisconsin 7, Minnesota 3 and Ohio State 0.

Eli Glazer of Indiana accounted for the day's top upset, beating Norman Barnes of Iowa, the defending No. 1 singles champ, 6-2, 6-4.

Glazer meets Stan Drobac of Michigan State, last year's runner-up, in a featured match today. Drobac, topspeeded in singles, beat Northwestern's Don Bauble, 3-6, 6-4, 8-6.

Bilko Fans Five Times, Ties Mark

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Steve Bilko of the St. Louis Cardinals tied a modern National League record when he struck out five times Thursday night in a ten-inning 10-10 tie between the Red Birds and the Cincinnati Redlegs.

The American League mark is six, set in a 15-inning game in 1913 by Carl Wellman of the St. Louis Browns.

FRED BODDY—Outstanding high school pitcher in the Upper Peninsula this year, Fred Boddy yesterday hurled his eighth straight victory for Coach Jim Rouman's Eskymos, downing the Gladstone Braves 4-0. The win extended Escanaba's winning streak to 28 games and closed the 1953 season. In 54 innings, Boddy fanned 101, allowed 19 hits and walked only 13. Five of his wins were shutouts. Young Brooklyn Ring Star Faces Flanagan

NEW YORK (AP)—Lulu Perez, 20-year-old Brooklyn featherweight, meets seasoned Glen Flanagan of St. Paul tonight in his first Madison Square Garden main event.

Perez is a 2½ to 1 favorite over Flanagan, veteran of 81 fights who knows many tricks and has fought the best.

The 10-round match, scheduled for 8:00 p. m. (CST) will be carried on network radio (ABC) and television (NBC).

Dodgers Make Weekend Bid

AP Sportswriter
Flushed with gifts from an unexpected source, the Brooklyn Dodgers face a busy holiday weekend which may well lead them into first place in the National League. At least the dog will be wide open and the watch dogs will be otherwise engaged. The Dodgers begin a five game set today with some of their very favorite playmates, the Pittsburgh Pirates. Their first division rivals

Sunburn Scores Ring Knockout

DETROIT (AP)—The sunburn knockout took the show from the headliner at the Motor City Arena Thursday night. Billy Finn, 16½, Detroit, won a second-round technical knockout over Vic Condit, 164, Dayton, O., in a four-round preliminary—the latter succumbing to a rough-ed-up sunburn rather than any hayingmaking blows. Condit was a rosy red as he entered the ring. He explained: "Working outside—too much sun." Finn roughed up the sunburn in first round clinches. His shoulders raw, Condit folded in pain in a corner in the second. Referee Lou Handler called Dr. Joseph Cahalan from ringside. The physician shook his head. It was all over at 2:15. The four-rounder was televised as was the headliner, which Carl Coates, 134, Baltimore, won by a technical knockout over Dave Rollins, 127½, Detroit, in the fifth of their scheduled eight-rounder.

Fan Fare

Philadelphia, a close fourth, opens a four game engagement with the fifth place New York Giants. Since nobody is apt to come out unscathed from these dog eat dog encounters, Brooklyn should be sitting pretty by Sunday night. After their first losing Western trip in three seasons the Dodgers have come upon much happier circumstances in the friendly East. They slapped down the Phillies in three straight, then came home to Ebbets Field to be presented with two victories by the Giants. With a chance to finish Wednesday's night game in front, the Giants chipped in a ninth inning error that gave Roy Campanella

Tigers Sign Son Of Ex-Star Dolf Camilli

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers announced Thursday the signing of Richard Camilli, 20, Santa Rosa, Calif., son of the onetime major league star Dolf Camilli. Young Camilli, who has played at Santa Clara College in California, is a first baseman like his father. The elder Camilli played in the National League from the early 1930s to the mid-1940s. The Tigers said young Camilli, a six-footer weighing 185 pounds, will be assigned to Buffalo of the International League.

Tigers Open 18-Game Home Stand Today

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's worst-ever Tigers open an 18-game home stand at Briggs Stadium against the seventh-place St. Louis Browns today. They'll play the Browns—whom the tail-end Tigers haven't beaten once this year—in a doubleheader Memorial Day. The Tigers are 15½ games behind the league-leading Yankees, having won only 10 while dropping 27 of their first 37 games. The 1952 Tigers—only Detroit team ever to finish in the cellar—won 12 of their first 37 and was only 10½ games away from the leaders. If the "new" Tigers keep up the pace they've set thus far, they'll finish even worse than the "old" Tigers of 1952, who won only 50 while dropping 104. No other Detroit team ever won so few or lost so many.

an opportunity to hit with two on and two out. Roy said thank you and promptly lost the ball in the left field seats for a 5-3 Brooklyn victory. Yesterday, after leading almost all the way, the Giants gave Brooklyn the winning run in the 10th on a missed third strike, a fielder's choice, an intentional walk and a passed ball. Brooklyn won, 7-6. The Dodgers now are in third place, a game and a half back of the first place Braves. Milwaukee was idle yesterday while the Cardinals were held to a 10-10 tie in 10 innings at Cincinnati. The game was called because St. Louis had to catch a train home.

Yanks Pull Out
In the American League yesterday the New York Yankees moved three games in front of the Chicago White Sox by whipping Washington, 7-2, while the White Sox took the day off. Philadelphia licked Boston, 6-1, and the St. Louis Browns won their second in a row from the Cleveland Indians, 7-5.

Whitey Ford of the Yankees extended his amazing record of never having lost as a starting pitcher as he set down the Senators on the five hits. Ford, a 24-year-old left-hander, has been beaten only once in 14 decisions in the majors and that came in a relief role against Philadelphia late in the 1950 season. He has won four times this year.

Another long winning streak by a pitcher was broken in the Philadelphia-Boston game where the Athletics finally beat Mel Parnell for the first time in more than two seasons. Parnell was leading the league this year with a 6-0 record.

Veteran Stars At Bat
In St. Louis veteran Bob Elliott drove in six runs with a bases-loaded homer and a single. The two hits ran his lifetime major league total to 1,998.

The Pittsburgh Pirates slammed 15 hits off the offerings of Jim Konstanty but the 36-year-old Philadelphia righthander stayed the distance to pick up his fourth victory.

The Cincinnati-St. Louis tie was a wild affair with the Redlegs scoring two runs in the eighth on Grady Hatton's pinch homer, two more in the ninth on a homer by Andy Seminick and a final pair in the 10th on a single with the bases loaded by Jim Greengrass. The game will be replayed from the start at some later date.

Good Weather Luck Expected To Hold For 500-Mile Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The fabulous good weather luck of the Indianapolis 500-mile speedway is expected to hold again Saturday for the 37th edition of America's premier auto race.

The weatherman predicts rain clouds drifting east from Illinois won't hit this area until well after a new king of the nation's steering wheel jockeys is crowned.

The forecast for the 200-lap grind around the brick and asphalt horseshoe, scheduled to start at 10 a. m. CST, is cloudy and humid with the temperatures in the high 80's.

$240,000 Purse
Thirty three of the fastest machines American ingenuity can devise, each manned by a race-hardened driver, will compete for a total purse of approximately $240,000. The crowd, traditionally the largest to pay for an American sports event, is expected to hit between 175,000 and 200,000. There will be no television but the race will be carried on a special 38-state radio network.

Everything points to a record-breaking performance—which would be the sixth in a row—if conditions permit.

Bill Vukovich, a 34-year-old descendant of Slovenian immigrants, won the pole position with the near record qualifying time of 138.392 miles per hour. Nineteen bettered 136 m.p.h.

Hard Luck Guy
Vukovich was the hard luck guy of the 1952 race, leading until the last 25 miles when his steering gear failed. That opened the door for Troy Ruttman, who came churning home in a record 128.992 m.p.h. victory. Ruttman is out with an injury this year and won't defend.

Vukovich may find his sternest opposition from two former champions, Johnny Parsons, 1950 victor and Bill Holland, 45-year-old veteran from Indianapolis who triumphed in 1949. Both qualified at speeds better than 137 m.p.h.

Last Threat Rolls
Tonight In Women's Bowling Tournament
DETROIT (AP)—Sylvia Wene, a five-foot Philadelphia, becomes the main attraction tonight in the Women's International Bowling Congress tournament.

Miss Wene, regarded by most experts as the last individual threat to pacesetters of the 61-day tournament ending June 8, brings a spectacular record into the event. In the last three world match-game singles tournaments, Sylvia has finished fourth, second and fourth, and in 1950 and 1951 led all qualifiers in the big event held each year in Chicago.

The 24-year-old Quaker City lass carried a 200-plus average in one league.

Columbus Loses In 18-Inning Marathon
(By The Associated Press)
Last-place Columbus toppled Indianapolis 5-4 Thursday night in an American Association game that went 18 innings and lasted 4 hours and 35 minutes.

Virgil Stallcup's infield hit followed by Mo Mazall's triple broke up the game with two out in the 18th, just at deadline. A 12:40 a. m. curfew would have ended the game with one more out.

The regulation nine innings ended in a 4-4 deadlock after Columbus rallied for two runs in the eighth inning.

The loss dropped second-place Indianapolis to 1½ games behind the league-leading Kansas City Blues, idle Thursday along with Louisville.

In other games St. Paul beat Minneapolis 3-1 and Toledo defeated Charleston, 6-2.

Brimley Man Nabbed, Charged With Selling Greens Containing Sand

Charged with selling greens containing sand and dirt, Edward LeVerne, of Brimley, was arraigned yesterday in Manistique justice court and pleaded not guilty.

Trial was set for Tuesday, June 4, and LeVerne furnished bond of $200 to guarantee his appearance.

LeVerne was arrested by state police on complaint of Earl Sadler, of Seney. The alleged offense took place May 19.

Moron Fools Police With Bomb-Like Box

NEW YORK (AP)—A package in a Pennsylvania Station locked looked mysterious, and the police bomb squad was called in.

It was a candy box criss-crossed with plastic tape, and quite heavy.

The police hastily examined the box with a mine detector and x-ray and fluoroscope. The examination indicated the box enclosed something with metal wheels and a container, possibly holding explosives.

Police put the box in a reinforced metal container and took it to a railroad freight yard. There, with spectators kept 250 feet away, it was opened.

Inside were three automobile pinion gears and a red plastic flashlight.

Police blamed some "egotism" or "moron" who intentionally rigged the box up to look like a bomb.

Reds Use Artillery To Break An Ice Jam

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Chinese Communists say they recently used artillery fire to break up a big ice jam on the Yellow river which threatened a flood in Suiyuan province of North China.

A Peiping broadcast heard here said artillery was ordered up ahead of time and shelled the jam southwest of Paotow when pent up waters behind the ice threatened dikes upstream.

Put End To Noise And Odors In The Home Plumbing

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

Home owners appreciate sound plumbing for its convenience and health protection and because they know smoothly functioning plumbing systems weigh heavily in the resale value of their homes.

That they are deeply concerned with all of these things is evident in two of their most common complaints. First, that their homes' plumbing systems are noisy, and, second, that they produce odors. They ask what can be done.

Manufacturers of plumbing fixtures and reputable plumbing contractors have made a lot of headway against noise in plumbing systems, but there are builders who short-cut expenses by taking it out on the plumbing. It doesn't pay—either contractor or buyer.

The three general types of noises found in plumbing systems are water hammer, whistling and chattering.

As the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau points out, there is no excuse for water hammer—the thump in the piping heard when valves or faucets are turned off abruptly.

It can usually be eliminated by the installation of an air chamber or short length of pipe in the wall where each supply pipe enters a plumbing fixture, according to the bureau. If this doesn't prevent the hammering noise, a special type of shock absorber should be installed on the main line near the meter or as close as possible to the source of the noise.

If the noise still continues, it must come from a source outside the house, and a master plumber should find it.

The shock waves caused by water hammer can be ruinous to piping—producing leaks that are expensive to repair. It should not be allowed to go on indefinitely.

Chattering in plumbing may have one of a number of causes, including pipes rubbing against metal projections, worn faucet washers or looseness of other inside parts of valves.

Whistling is the result of water traveling at high velocity through piping which is usually too small.

So it is important not to be stingy with the size of pipe used in the water supply.

The alternative is to install a pressure-reducing valve. Since whistling is most common at bends and tees in the pipe, it will also help to straighten the lines if possible.

As for odors, a correctly designed and installed plumbing system shouldn't present this problem. Defects that produce odors are improperly vented plumbing, leaks in waste or vent piping, traps that have lost their water seal, and others.

Odors in plumbing systems often indicate the presence of sewer gas entering through leaks or traps. Though sewer gas isn't deadly, it is noxious and capable of causing headaches and other minor illnesses.

Traps and vents control the sewer air. Traps are plainly visible under sinks, are built into water closets and usually concealed in the floor or basement under bathtubs. Traps hold several inches of water, which is a barrier to sewer gas. Unless properly vented, they lose this water seal.

In fixtures used only infrequently, this water seal may evaporate. So it is a good idea to fill such drains and fixtures with water occasionally to insure a trap seal.

India has about 10 million Christians, one of many minority religious groups, and Christmas has been chosen as a national holiday in deference to the Christians just as other holidays are observed on a national basis in deference to other religious groups.

Old Soldier Observes 84th Memorial Day At 106 In Duluth, Minn.

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Albert Henry Woolson has his blue serge suit with brass buttons cleaned and pressed and the "GAR" on his uniform cap sparkles.

Saturday is the old soldier's 84th Memorial Day and the 106-year-old Civil War veteran will be the center of Duluth's observance of the day.

A busy schedule has been set for Woolson, who Saturday—for the first time—will note Memorial Day without a single comrade in the Grand Army of the Republic (GAR). The organization once counted 408,489 members.

Named Vice Commander in Chief of the GAR at its last session, Woolson is the only survivor of the 2,675,000-man Union Army in the Civil War. James A. Hard, Rochester, N. Y., the only other Northern veteran, died March 12.

Memorial Day was first officially observed in 1869 on the order of Gen. John A. Logan, GAR commander.

Woolson's self-designed GAR uniform came back from the cleaners Thursday.

He will put it on and at 9 a. m. Saturday will lay a wreath on the soldiers' and sailors' monument in front of the Duluth Courthouse. A half hour later, he will get into a convertible and assume his post as honorary grand marshal of a parade down Duluth's main thoroughfare, Superior Street.

Then, in a ceremony at the Duluth Armory, he will receive a plaque from the Duluth Lions Club and citations from the national American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. The names of Duluth's war dead will be read and taps will sound.

Woolson will then ride to a Du-

A native of Watertown, N. Y., Woolson was a drummer boy in the Civil War, enlisting when he was 17 in the first Minnesota Artillery Regiment. He spent less than a year in the Union blue, serving the entire time on garrison duty in Chattanooga, Tenn.

A daughter and son-in-law live here with him, but old Albert is able to care for himself almost entirely—and in the wintertime even shovels away a few scoops of snow.

Woolson says he is through "saying something important" on Memorial Days. He told a reporter he's just "very, very proud to be able to pay homage" to the American dead of five wars in his lifetime—the Civil War, Spanish American War, two World Wars and the Korean War.
